

4-H members held their pre-fair workshop clinic at the Morrow County fairgrounds annex building Saturday, July 8. Junior 4-H members were told of the different contests they could enter during fair and got to do some practicing of measuring contests, and table setting. The afternoon sessions included style revue and interview judging. Approximately 25 members participated in this worthwhile project under the direction of Carol Bennett, County Extension Agent.

Stand behind your school board

To the Editor:
Morrow County-its families and schools-have experienced a divisive year of educational unrest, a devastating strike, and bitterness and animosity that seems to never cease. Each side claims to be standing for our children and education. It appears the worst is yet to come. Citizens for a Fresh Start are seeking support to recall the present school board. A lawsuit that could make school board members accountable from personal assets for decisions rendered as elected officials appears to be part of the Fresh Start invasion by this group. One must question the motives of this group when one of the instigators, Ed Glenn, writes America is a special place, "Where the people elect those who will govern" and "the right to speak our mind is one of the most cherished parts" (GT July 12, 89). In America, elected school boards govern our school system. In most countries citizens have no local control of their schools. School board membership is a thankless and time consuming job that ensures total con-

rol. Our present school board has been maligned, harrassed, hounded and cursed because their united stand has offended some.

Supporters for a Fresh Start aggressively contend these board members must be removed and replaced with those that would be sympathetic to their cause.

Something is very disturbing about this so-called Fresh Start. Who elected, appointed, or in any way entrusted this group of self exalted educational experts? We know our present elected school board. Could any Fresh Start accusers fill Bob Mahoneys shoes, in any capacity, parent-rancher citizen, let alone on the school board. I would wager Jerry McElligott has spent more selfless hours for education than all accusers have volunteered for education in their whole life. Julie Ashbeck and Marsha Kemp have proven under fire to be level headed, sincere and sensible. Can we trust their accusers for the same? Billy Doherty has been maligned more in the last year than his accusers will collectively endure in their lifetime.

Did you see Bill or any other board member making public fools of themselves or in any way conducting themselves unbecomingly through this whole sordid mess?

Sure we need some major changes in education and administration. Our kids can't read and don't respect authority and that began long before the present administration. We have taken the foundation of God, the Bible and personal voluntary prayer out of the school and now we stand on union controlled quicksand. If you want to find out where the teachers unions are taking our children please read "N.E.A., the Trojan Horse of Education."

Let us stay with the system. The trouble makers will come to the surface. Many have already. If the school board members are to be held personally financially accountable and further humiliated by a vindictive recall no one will ever serve on a school board again - save those sold out to the unions. And unions don't pay property taxes.

Stand behind your board. They deserve our support, our esteem and our appreciation.

(s) Signed,
Rev. Stuart Dick
Heppner

Legislature

produces major accomplishments

To the Editor:

The recent Legislature, which saw Democrats working closely with the Governor to keep Oregon rolling without increasing income taxes, produced major accomplishments:

1. Nearly $1.2 billion for state support of local education, a 15 percent increase and a record in actual money authorized.
2. A major prison building program was implemented. Laws were strengthened to help keep criminals behind bars longer, too.
3. We banned offshore oil development and created a "superfund" to clean up toxic wastes. Important ground water supplies won protection.
4. Medical care was expanded to reach many of the 400,000 low income Oregonians who cannot afford it now.
5. Millions of dollars in lottery money will help create jobs. These include both aiding new industry and training our workers.

Oregon has a new minimum wage, took steps to stop log exports, and called for overdue improvements to fish hatcheries. All this—and more—without raising income taxes one dime. In fact, taxpayers will receive more than $160 million in refunds.

As Majority Leader, I am proud of these accomplishments and of the record which will benefit all Oregonians.

Sincerely,
(s) Bill Bradbury

Positive comments of HHS seniors

To the Editor:

I really think the community should know about this letter I received recently,

(s) Thanks
Janella Bailey
Heppner

Dear Ms. Bailey:

I have been meaning to write and, as too often is the case, was sidetracked by many daily affairs. I have received nothing but wonderful reports about the Heppner High School seniors who were at The Lodge on May 26 to 28. I'm sorry to hear that a neighbor did not provide a good welcome, but later members of that household commented positively about the students. We would certainly welcome back Heppner students.

My best wishes for a wonderful summer for you and a great future for all the graduates.

Cordially,

Let's account for our own actions

To the Editor:

I am most distressed. I have just finished reading a newspaper article about seven Morrow County residents who have filed a law suit against all of the Morrow County School Board members personally. I think this is about the most appalling form of harassment used so far.

According to the article, they are not looking for district funds. They want the individuals to repay the district what they have determined are damages out of their personal assets. Even if the allegations are true (which I personally do not believe), why are they attacking these people on a personal level instead of as a governing body which is the capacity in which they were acting when making all decisions for the district. Furthermore, if these "private citizens" really had a legitimate complaint about the embarrassment, humiliation, pain, anger, etc. that they claim, why does not the law suite include the Morrow County Education Association and it's members as well.

Both sides have contributed to the conflict that has come from contract negotiations breakdown and the following strike. I am sure that the School Board would be the first to admit that they too have made mistakes during this awful time. But how many of us out here complaining about their decisions can be absolutely without-a-doubt positive, that had we been in the board members shoes, would have had a more positive impact on the situation.

Some of us, most assuredly, would have done things differently, but would our decisions have avoided this conflict altogether. That is after all, the only way this situation would have been improved.

We have all lost so much already in this ordeal (friendships, trust, security to name a very few). Let's start being accountable for our own actions and quit being to ready to pass judgement on others.
