Former IFYE visits Nelson ranch

Amund Kvam, 1969 International Farm Youth Exchange student from Steinkjer, Norway, spent a few days last week visiting at the home of Mrs. Norman Nelson. Chuck Nelson picked him up at Salem where he visited Kristin Nelson, and brought him to the Nelson Ranch on Saturday evening.

While here, he rode the combine and truck to the elevator with the Kenneth Nelson crew, viewed Chuck Nelson's farm shop, attended church at the Ione United Church of Christ and had a tour around the area to see the changes. Sunday evening a potluck was held at the Nelson ranch with Birdine Tullis and Chuck Nelson assisting the hostess.

Amund came to the United States to participate in an International athletic competition for veterans. He competed in the shot put and hammer throw. At the present time he is a journalist and photographer for a newspaper in Steinkjer. He also writes for a district church newspaper. He has been active in youth work such as 4-H and has been active in planning for European meetings of IFYE.

After leaving here he rode to Portland with Dr. Tom Alexander to visit his host family in Lake Oswego. From there he went on to Indianapolis and then home.

The excitement for the ride included a horse almost going down in a stock pond for a swim and getting to see deer along with a bull elk during the day.
