Jo Borst stands inside her new shop. An Open House was held Monday, August 21 to christen her shop.

Thirty-one attend WCCC barbecue

A family barbecue was held Sunday, August 27. Thirty-one people attended and enjoyed a closely contested Scramble Tournament.

The team of Jim Wishart, Howard Gilliam, Bev Wilson and Lorena Jones tied the team of Frank Bailey, Howard Bryant and Jan Paustian for first place shooting 28.

One shot back at 29 was the second place team of Earl Norris, Kay Anderson, Elmer Palmer and Barbara Gilbert.

Playing par golf was only good enough for third place for the team of Bob Jepsen, Carl Martin, Helen Gilliam and Pat Edmundson and the team of Darrel Wilson, Les Paustian, Neoma Bailey and Cam Wishart.

Special event winners were Lorena Jones and Frank Anderson, K.P. on #9 and John Edmundson, K.P. on #4.

The next barbecue is Sunday, October 1 at 3 p.m.

Burkenbine served employer well

Taken from The Journal Patriot N. Wilkesboro, N.C. August 3, 1989.

The success of the Abitibi-Price plant in Roaring River of the almost 20 years it has been in operation is due in no small part to the contributions made by Albert Burkenbine, who died Sunday, July 23. He was a major factor in the process of designing, construction, and start up of our plant. Since the start up of the plant he served as manufacturing superintendent. His contributions to the plant are too numerous to mention.

Everyone who was fortunate enough to work with Al most certainly benefitted from knowing him. His knowledge of our plant and our product was without equal. We have all lost a good friend.

Al was born in Heppner, Ore. After completing school in the Heppner area he served with the U.S. Navy. His career in the hardboard industry started with Oregon Fibre Products and U.S. Gypsum in Pilot Rock, Ore. He joined Abitibi at our Alpena plant in 1957. At Alpena he held many different supervisory positions in the manufacturing department.

Mikka Evans, Irrigon, and Marty Suter, Boardman are the two new correspondents for the Heppner Gazette. They will cover sports for the Boardman and Irrigon areas and also other news items of interest to the community. Anyone with news items or events they would like covered, may contact either of the girls for their help.

Welcome to the team, girls!

Mikka Evans has been involved in 4-H cooking, modeling, creative arts and sheep for six years. She was president of the freshmen class at Riverside and will be a sophomore. She was on the "A" honor roll all year with a 4.0 for the second semester. She was Grand Champion Sheep Showman at the fair this year. She was a 4-H counselor at Cutsforth Park. She plays volleyball and basketball and was the freshmen co-captain for the basketball team. She received a presidential academic award for grade school and junior high and was a reporter for the grade school paper for two years and an editor her third year. She wrote for the "Riverside Review" last year.

Marty Suter is a senior at Riverside High School. Her school activities include volleyball, basketball and Oregon High School Rodeo Assoc. (1989 national qualifier).

"Hands on Science" coming to Heppner

Are you looking for stimulating, educational activities that your child can participate in after school? Look no further. This fall, the Umatilla Educational Service District is bringing "Hands on Science" to the community of Heppner.

Hands on Science is an after school program in which children in preschool through sixth grade can explore scientific principles in a fun way. The children will use the scientific method of hypothesizing, testing and concluding to explore visual patterns. Can you make a square bubble? How many colors do you find in bubbles? Can you believe what you see? Perception deception is here. Create a kaleidoscope. Learn what tessellatron is. Use mirrors, colors, paper and string to create magic tricks from science experiments. All of this without grades or tests. It's completely recreational.

The Hands on Science program was started in Montgomery County, Maryland. The program is now spreading nationwide thanks to a grant from the National Science Foundation. The Umatilla ESD sponsored Sarah Carlson in the Hands on Science coordinator's training this summer in Washington D.C.

The classes will have 10-11 children and will meet once a week for one hour after school. Each session of classes is eight weeks long and three sessions will be available during the year. Each session provides new learning experiences so if a student hasn't participated in the program before, they can without being behind.

Teachers for the classes are individuals who hold a bachelors degree, but not necessarily in science. The local coordinator trains, oversees and assists the teachers to assure quality Hands on Science classes.

The Fall session will be offered in Heppner at the Heppner Elementary school. The eight week session costs $42. This fee covers materials, teachers' salaries, and administrative overhead. Materials will be sent home each week in hopes that experiments and activities will be repeated.

"The ESD and I hope this program will meet great success in Heppner this fall so we can make the program available to the rest of Morrow and Umatilla Counties. After attending the training, participating in most of the activities that will be taught this fall, and observing HOS classes in action this summer, I can confidently say any child taking these classes will have fun while learning science," said Mrs. Carlson.

New operator comes from Corvallis

Kay Fowler, seated, is now working at Country Shears for owner Jan Stroeber, standing. Stop by and see what is new at Country Shears.

Kay Fowler is now working at Country Shears. She is the 'new girl' you will see in the shop.

Kay and her husband Dave moved to Heppner from Corvallis where she was employed as a beautician. Her husband completed college in 1988 at Oregon State University and is the new woodshop teacher in Heppner. He did substitute teaching in the Corvallis district last year. Kay has had seven years of beauty work in Corvallis. She specializes in hair coloring, waxing, as in bikini lines and eyebrow lines, ear piercing, pedicures and fiberglass nails, which are new to the area. They will continue to do acrylic nails in the shop also.

Kay and her husband enjoy fishing, golf, swimming, hiking and snow and water skiing.

Stop by and see Kay, Jan or Barb at Country Shears.
