HHS Coach Tillery speaks to Boosters

Heppner High School Mustang football coach, Jay Tillery, spoke to the Heppner Booster Club at its first meeting of the year on Sept. 5. Coach Tillery explained his philosophies and goals for the upcoming football season.

Also at Sept. 5 meeting Martha Munkers was elected president; Susan Johnston, vice president/publicity; Linda Conklin, secretary; and Jan Coe treasurer.

Saturday, Oct. 21, is scheduled for the club's annual Reno Night. Proceeds from the event are used for four annual scholarships and other activities. Last year, said a Booster Club spokesperson, the monies were used to help with expenses for the football team, the band and the cheerleaders to attend the state championship game. A donation was also made to Nance Wright, who traveled to West Germany for a volleyball tournament.

The next scheduled meeting will be Oct. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at Ployhar Insurance.

Anyone wishing to join the Booster Club and help with Reno Night may attend the Oct. meeting or contact Martha Munkers or Susan Johnston.

French named NCA spokesman

Ray French of Heppner has been appointed to serve as a volunteer spokesman for the National Cattlemen's Association (NCA) in this area of Oregon.

NCA president Bob Josseland created this program to provide local cattlemen with information regarding the national issues affecting the cattle industry and the local area. As a participant in this program, French will keep local cattlemen advised of pertinent issues as well as inform NCA of the concerns of local cattlemen.

"Agriculture is the largest segment of the U.S. economy and the beef cattle industry is the largest segment of agriculture," explains Josseland. "If we, as cattlemen, plan to keep the industry strong, we must have a strong network throughout the country."

"We've appointed Ray to be one of our representatives to help NCA exchange information with the cattlemen in this part of Oregon."

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the cattle industry or the NCA, please write or call: Ray French, Route 2 box 2396, Heppner, OR 97836 (503) 676-5365.
