

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

When Santa Claus drops by to visit, the Christmas season has truly begun. This happened in our sitting room last Saturday afternoon as Santa found out what dozens of good boys and girls want for Christmas and gave each one a generous candy cane.

Monday of this week found two groups in the dining room: the Quilters and Company and a group of volunteers from about town who started decorating the room for the holidays.

Wednesday the Nutrition Site Committee interviewed applicants for a new assistant cook. Marla Purcell, Nutrition Specialist from ECOAC, assisted.

Next week: Quilters and Company plan to decorate their tree on Monday at 1 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. the Heppner Garden Club will have their meeting and Christmas party in the sitting room.

Wednesday the regular noon dinner menu: lasagna with meat, green beans, tossed salad, chilled pears, French bread and oatmeal cookie. Ladies from the Seventh Day Adventist and Nazarene Churches will assist with serving. The regular Nutrition Site committee meeting will be at 1 p.m.

Next Sunday, Dec. 10, the center looks forward to the monthly potluck party. Hostesses say to bring a white elephant for the gift exchange. A "white elephant" is something you don't need any longer but think someone else might enjoy. Everyone is invited.

(Editor's note: The caption of a photograph in last week's G-T was in error. Following is a corrected caption.)

Tom Springer of Tom's TV and Heppner City employee Roger Ehrmantraut help residents get into the spirit of the Christmas season by installing Christmas lights along city streets. Springer donates his time to install the lights.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

One of Heppner Chamber's goals is to support community events with time, talent and finances. Since our motto is, "It doesn't really matter who gets the credit as long as the job gets done," there has been some confusion about two major community events—the Town and Country Week and St. Patrick's Celebration. Some history about each:

Town & Country: For many years the Morrow County Livestock Growers and the businesses of Heppner went together to put on the Farm/City Banquet, which always followed the Livestock Growers Annual meeting. Then, in 1986, the Livestock Growers, CattleWomen, Wheat League, Soil Conservation District, Small Woodland Owners, Weed District, Extension Service, etc. decided to hold the annual meetings all on one day with a series of events leading up to that and cumulating with the Town and Country Banquet. Chamber cooperated by holding an annual luncheon at the beginning of the week and helping to plan the rest of the week. So evolved the Town and Country event...a joint effort.

Sometimes it is difficult to set a date that fits everyone; the organizations scheduled the 1990 event for the week of Jan. 15-19. A planning meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 30 at the Extension Conference room. It's your event. Your input is essential.

St. Patrick's Celebration: Reactivated by Jim Farley, other Irishmen chairman David Sykes and many in the community, this event has become known all over Oregon and requires "all leprachans" (Irish and otherwise) to pitch in. What does the event mean for Heppner? It gives our community an opportunity to show what we're all about...friendliness, sense of humor, hospitality, Irish heritage, rural attractions. Who benefits? The organizations of adults and children who have booths, floats, dinners, stew feeds, to realize extra income to go back into the community; the stores and restaurants on Main Street; the motel; the farmers who grow the products that people consume and Heppner by saying "welcome, we're glad you're here, come back to visit." The St. Patrick's Celebration is all about community pride and working together. Next meeting is tonight, Wednesday, Nov. 29, 7 p.m. Extension Conference room.

The Dec. 5 Chamber meeting will be business with reports on the coalition meeting, port meeting, Christmas plans, etc.

Thought for the week: "For every negative, be able to come up with one positive."...Steve Dickenson, HHS principal during his talk to Chamber.
