

Extension members attend meeting

By Delpha Jones
Several of the Morrow County Extension members attended the district meeting in Pendleton at the Kings Table. Speaker for the day spoke on the family study center being built in Corvallis near the college. These plans have been going since 1962 and are now being put to use. Barbara Ketchum also spoke to the group and talked about mini-college which will be housed at the new building, ready by 1991. Mini college 1990 will be June 17-20. The ACWW will be on the Netherlands for this year. Elgin will have their Homemaker's day April 18 at the community center in Elgin. A fun number was greatly enjoyed by all when June Kononan of the theater group gave an outstanding performance and reading about "McDonald's." After lunch the group met Betty Lou Norris, wife of Chuck Norris, state rep., who gave a most interesting report on the activities in Salem when the legislation is in session. She spoke at length on the lobbyists and their input there. The meeting adjourned about 2 p.m. Those from Lexington going were Joyce Buchanan, Leila Palmer and Delpha Jones.

Rhea Creek Study Group meets

By Delpha Jones
The Rhea Creek Study Group met at the home of Judy Stevens at Hardman on Wednesday for their regular meeting. The eye-opener given by Leila Palmer was on the topic of home maintenance. Squeaky hinges can be helped by a drop of penetrating oil at the top of the hinges, metal door and windows. Use a drop of lubricating oil on bearings to maintain an easy operation. For locks that are hard to turn, put puff powdered graphite into the lock and around the latch and many other tips were given on oiling squeaky hinges and locks. The lesson for the day was given by Freda Slocum and Norma Craber, and was on garden tool and chemical safety. Also discussed were the sprays on the market, and how safe they are to humans.

After a lovely lunch, the meeting was held with the main business being the election of officers: chairman-Judy Stevens; vice-chairman Leila Palmer; secretary/treasurer-Delpha Jones. Guest for the day was Carol Bennett. The group is planning an outing to the Whitman Mission near Walla Walla and other points of interest.

April 15-18 is Living Legacy Week

Bob Taylor, mayor of Lexington has declared the week of April 15 to 21 as "Living Legacy Week." The Holly Rebekah Lodge members will meet at the Friendship park where the mayor will plant a tree, purchased by the lodge to celebrate. Lodge Warden Kathy Tellechea will be in charge of the evening's activities. During the week, everyone is encouraged to plant a tree to help the environment, said a club spokesperson.

4-H News

Martingals
By Dawn Boor, Reporter
On April 4, the Martingals 4-H horse club went to Ann Bedortha's house and rode. Members worked on bridling and saddling horses. The next meeting will be on April 15 at Ann Bedortha's house to ride horses.

Cook 'n' Delight
The Cook 'n' Delight 4-H club made $80 at their recent bake sale with proceeds being donated to the Van Etta family. Girls who baked goodies were: Tina Kemp, Tarn Dick, Laurel Temple, Toni Kemp, Lindsey Waterland, Stormy Howard and Tiffanie Munkers. The 4-H club used money in their treasury to purchase the supplies and kept track of what it costs to bake the items. At their next meeting, they will compare baking at home to buying prepared baked items at the store.

Seven Super Sewers
By Steve Allen, Reporter
On Saturday, April 7, the Seven Super Sewers modeled their vests at Needlemania which was held at the Pendleton Armory. This is the second year club members have modeled at Needlemania. Last year they showed sweat pants. Kristy Crowell and Jannie Allen took the Seven Super Sewers to Pendleton. After modeling the vests, members had lunch out before returning home. The vests were their most difficult project so far, but leader, Monica Swanson, took a lot of extra time to help us. At the next meeting members will discuss what to make for the fall.

Ione Cardinals kick off track season with three meets

By Anne Morter
The Ione High School Cardinals kicked off their track season week with a busy three-meet schedule. The week started with a trip to Umatilla on Tuesday, April 3, for a four-way meet with Umatilla, Heppner and Riverside. Friday found the Cards at the Carnival of Speed Track Meet in Milton Freewater and Saturday, it was back to Umatilla for the Morrow County Invitational. Despite the workload, the Cards turned in some respectable performances. At the four-way meet on Tuesday, Danielle Stefani (800 and 1500) and Jo Cupps (javelin and discus) were double winners for Ione. Cupps also took second in the shot and third in the 300 intermediate hurdles. The boys were paced by multipurpose Gabe Garcia and Mike Garrett. Garcia sprinted to second place finishes in the 100 and 200, placed fifth in the high jump and ran a leg on the second place 400 relay team. Garrett placed second in the triple jump and third in both the javelin and 1500. At the Carnival of Speed, Jo Cupps captured the javelin with a throw of 111'11" and set a personal record in the discus with a toss of 102'5", good for third place. Danielle Stefani pulled her 1500 meter time down to 5:31.9 good for sixth place. Twenty-two schools competed at the Morrow County Invitational and the tired Cardinals didn't fare as well. Danielle Stefani paced the girl's team with a second place finish in the 1500 in a time of 5:31.5. She doubled back in the 800 with a 2:45, good for fifth place. Jo Cupps took fifth in both the javelin (108'4") and the discus (98'3"). Jannie Cupps took sixth in the high jump with a leap of 4'6" and Crystal Minster was sixth in the 100 meters with a 14.59 to round out the scoring. The boy's team were unable to score.

Gerri Grieb participates in volunteer training

Gerri Grieb, Lexington, participated in the Pacific Northwest Volunteers For the Future Training conference in Richland, WA March 29-31. She was among 150 delegates from Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana. Participants heard from Richard Sauer, National 4-H Council President; Duane Johnson, Oregon State 4-H leader; and others. Grieb developed expertise in the area of youth volunteers as resources; Other participants received training volunteer members on boards, councils and committees; volunteer middle management positions. *The training provides resources for leadership development for any organization," said Jan Hiller, Washington State University Extension 4-H/Youth Specialist. Conference participants will work as a team to apply their skills in their county. They can share conference materials and information with community organizations. The national Volunteers For the Future program was funded in 1984 by a 2.73 million dollar grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation. It was administered by National 4-H Council. The March conference was sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Systems of Washington, Idaho and Oregon.
