Greens host Australian visitors

Cliff and Cindy Green of Heppner are hosting some international visitors this week. Sandy and Trish Moore from Robe, South Australia. Sandy and her daughter arrived in Heppner Sunday evening and plan on staying in Heppner until July 11. The Moore family hosted the Green's daughter, Kirsten, at their home in Australia in 1988. Sandy and her husband, Barry, who is a "crayfish" or lobster fisherman, have two children, Barry, 19, and Anthony, 12. The Moore's home at Robe, in the lower southeast of South Australia, is a coastal town of 1,000 people, but swells to around 10,000 during the summer tourist season. Sandy is a housewife and also works at the local pub. Trish, 17, works at the state bank. Sandy and Trish say that things are "very different" in the U.S., even the food and the names of the food are different in Australia. "We don't have all the sugary foods (in Australia)," said Trish. The two have had a chance to do a little shopping and plan on visiting Anaheim, Ca. and Hawaii before returning to Robe.

McDaniel picnic set July 15

Gilliam and Bisbee building named historic place

The Gilliam and Bisbee Building (1912-1922) on Main and May Streets in Heppner, has been officially entered into the National Register of Historic Places.

The property was nominated to the National Register at the recommendation of the State Advisory Committee on Historic Preservation. Word of the recent action taken in Washington D.C., was received by State Historic Preservation officer David G. Talbot.

The National Register is maintained by the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, under authority of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966.

The register is the official list of the nation's cultural resources worthy of preservation. The list contains districts, sites, archeological sites, buildings, structures and objects of national, state and local significance.

Under Oregon's historic property tax law (ORS 358.475), an owner of a National Register property who is willing to maintain the property's historic values may apply for special assessment status, in which the true cash value of the property is frozen for a period of 15 years. The law is intended as an incentive for the rehabilitation and appropriate maintenance of historic buildings.
