

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

By Jane Rawlins

Great news: Our new senior center bus is due to be delivered Monday, Sept. 24, according to Stan Murray, owner of Murray Modifications of Seattle, Wa., who has the contract for assembling the bus we ordered. We are planning a little welcoming party when it arrives here. We can pile in and take a mini-trip around town to try it out, maybe even have refreshments. We'll let everyone know the approximate hour as soon as we know. For two years we have looked forward to this day.

A salute to the Senior Center volunteer receptionists who are in our office from 9 to 5 week days and monitor after-hour calls received on our telephone answering device. These volunteers have chosen to welcome visitors, answer questions, answer the phone and make calls referring messages to our Senior services specialist Merri Reamer and to appropriate committee chairmen of the Sr. Center Board. They take requests for RSVP and the Dollaride car, call shut-ins to "see how you're doing today," keep a written log of visitors, calls and events each day, assist with decorating both bulletin boards and the rooms, do typing and filing and other things as need arises. Heppner can be proud to have the only full-time office volunteer staff of the senior centers in our area. The following people merit a pat on the back: Rachel Harnett (general chairman), Irene Schroeder, Shirley Haugen, Velma Wight, Barbara Struthers, Merna Toll, Darlene Arrington, Eleanor Gonty, Laura Searle, Florence Holt and Helen Dyer.

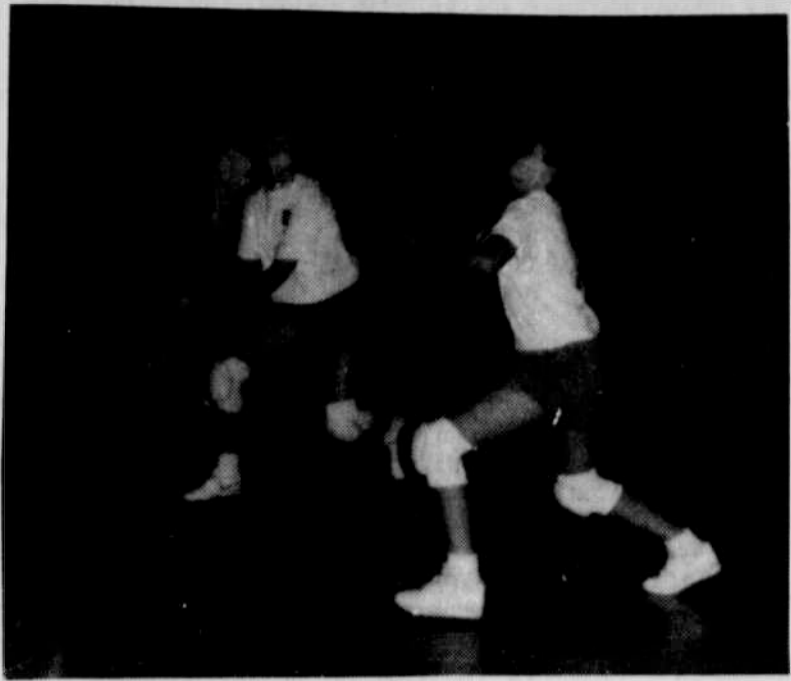

Next week: Monday the new bus arrives. At 1 p.m. quilters begin instructions on how to cut and assemble a quilt. This is to be for individuals who choose to make a block, a wall hanging, pillow or a whole quilt for themselves, using the construction techniques provided by the class.

Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. the exercise group is invited to "Suing into Shape."

Wednesday friends from the Nazarene and Seventh Day Adventist churches will be assisting in serving the monthly birthday dinner of lasagna, broccoli, tossed salad, French bread, chilled pears and cookies. The Nutrition Site Committee announces that the new suggested donation will be $1.75 for those over 60 and $2.25 for those under. The price rise is because meat will no longer be available through AAA commodities.

At 1 p.m. a special meeting of the Activities Committee will be held in the office.
