

The Benj. Franklin is now Bank of America.

The service you've come to enjoy now comes in extra strength.

On September 7th, 1990, The Benj. Franklin Federal Savings and Loan Association customers became part of the BankAmerica family,* one of the nation's largest and strongest financial institutions. A family with 85 years experience in meeting the banking needs of people and businesses in the West.

As a member of this family you can look forward to the same friendly service you enjoyed at The Benj. Franklin, from the same people who know you and all your banking needs. And, you won't even have to change locations. All of the Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Utah branches are still open to serve you.

What's more, you'll continue to enjoy access to the most technologically advanced full-service ATM's in the Northwest, at no charge. Along with additional access to The Exchange® network with ATM's throughout the Northwest and Canada.

Extra strength, stability, service. We're proud to offer all three in the Northwest, and we look forward to serving you soon. Please stop by your nearest Bank of America branch today or call 1-800-782-6020 for more information.

Leading the way to easier banking™

*Bank of America, Federal Savings Bank, a subsidiary of BankAmerica Corporation, acquired the branches, deposits, and certain loans of The Benj. Franklin Savings and Loan Association.

Bank of America, Federal Savings Bank Member FDIC