Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

Next week's chamber program is "Mulligan Stew"... a mixture of topics, the choice is yours. We found out just how much could be accomplished when we all worked together on Cycle Oregon. Now what? What are your dreams for Heppner: tourism ideas, business ideas, improvements, new looks; where do you see Heppner in five, 10, 15 years? How can we solve some of our problems to move forward with energy and enthusiasm? if it is to be, it is up to me...and you...and your next door neighbor.

That brings us to the garbage issue, which has been a chamber topic for a number of weeks. Cities aren't the only ones with problems. We all need to be concerned. Do we want to see can't overflowing, roadways and fields strewn with litter, our community going downhill, our only focus being what to do with garbage? I think not. Please voice your concerns to city and county officials and learn the facts. We're all in this together. The sooner we have a solution the sooner we can get on with positive issues.

Seniors, have you heard about the Elderhostel program? Come by the Chamber office to learn more about this educational program for older adults who want to continue to expand their horizons and to develop new interests. Participants enjoy inexpensive, short-term academic programs at educational institutions for a week. Many are available right here in Oregon.

See you Tuesday for "Mulligan Stew". The following Tuesday, October 23, students will present a program to kick off "Red Ribbon" week, the drug awareness program.

Thought for the week: "When the well's dry, we know the worth of water."
