Lexington News

By Delpha Jones

Four lone women, Helen Crawford, Lucille Rietmann, Geneva Palmer and Helen Martin, took a ten-day bus tour through parts of Canada recently.

They left from Condon on October 1 and traveled to Leavenworth, Washington, on through British Columbia and into Alberta. In Alberta, they visited Lake Louise where they encountered six inches of fresh snow, Jasper National Park, and Edmonton. They spent two days in Edmonton where they visited the world's largest shopping mall and the Edmonton Heritage Center, which is a refurbished 1900 town.

The next stop was Calgary where a highlight was breakfast at the Calgary Tower Revolving Restaurant and then on to Kimberley, B.C., where they toured the Cranbrook Railway Museum; They made a stop at Bampf and rode the tramway to Sulphur Mountain. It was a clear day so they were treated to a wonderful view of all the surrounding mountains.

Their last night on the road was spent in Cour d'Alene, where they enjoyed a dinner boat trip. The trip, which covered 2127 miles, was marred slightly by weather which hampered the ladies from enjoying the scenery but they report that it was a very nice trip.

Irene Swanson, along with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swanson and family, traveled to San Jose, California, last weekend to attend the wedding of Kristen Marie Swanson, daughter of John Swanson. The nuptial mass was held Saturday, October 13, at St. Francis Caprine Church in San Jose. Mr. and Mrs. Denny Swanson of Auburn, Washington, also attended. Adrienne Swanson, daughter of Jim and Monica, was the flower girl. Irene reports that it was a very elegant wedding, all done in black and white.

Recent guests at the Leo Crabtree home were Ron and Marilyn Crabtree of Tacoma, Carolyn Hull of Nampa, and Megan Elizabeth McCabe of Pendleton. They came to help Irene who has been down with an illness for the past several weeks.

Larry and Judy Scheelar of Gig Harbor, Washington, made an overnight visit at the Crabtree home recently. Larry is Irene's brother. They were passing through on their way to Montana.

Hunting guests at the Ralph Morter home were Tom and Tammy Baumgartner of Philomath.

Jay is the son of Oliver Devin and Maureen Howard, both of Lexington. Angela's daughter, Amanda Marie, was attendant for her mother. Jay is employed as logger in Alaska.

Morrow Co. economics changes

Morrow County is changing economically, according to the Bureau of Economic Analysis. Since 1978 the ranking of Morrow County's per capita personal income (PCPI) has shrunk from first to eighth. The average annual growth rate of PCPI in the county was 0.4 percent over the past 10 years, compared with 6.0 percent for Oregon and 7.3 percent for the nation.

The county's economy is based on natural resources—farming, timber, ranching and recreation. As jobs in these sectors disappear, its share of the economy of the county has become smaller. The result has been both lower relative personal income and a weaker general economy.

In 1988 Morrow County had a total personal income (TPI) of 111 million dollars. This TPI ranked 30th in Oregon, down from 28th ten years before.

Components of TPI include earnings (wages and salaries, proprietor income, etc.); dividends, interest and rent; and transfer income. The county has become more dependent upon non-earned income. In 1988, earnings were 75.3 percent of TPI, compared with 86.9 percent in 1978. From 1978 to 1988 earnings increased on average 0.4 percent each year, compared with 7.8 percent for dividends, interest and rent, and 9.4 percent for transfer income.
