

Engagements

Morter — Lovejoy

Diann Morter and Dale Lovejoy announce their engagement to be married on November 24 at 3 p.m. at Our Lady of Angels Catholic Church at Hermiston. A reception at Thompson Hall at the Umatilla County Fairgrounds in Hermiston will immediately follow the ceremony. All friends and family of the bride and groom are invited to attend.

Diann is the daughter of Perry and Kathy Morter of Ione. Dale's parents are Ed and Donna Lovejoy, Milton-Freewater.

Diann, a graduate of Ione High School and Washington State University, is employed at Lamb Weston. Dale graduated from McLoughlin High School and Washington State University and is employed with Berger and Company.

SWCD holds workshop for county teacher inservice

On October 12, Morrow Soil and Water Conservation District put on a workshop for Morrow County teachers for statewide inservice day. The purpose of the workshop was to inform teachers of conservation activities in Morrow County that they could incorporate into their curriculum.

Five teachers, from Boardman, Heppner and Ione, participated in the workshop. The workshop was designed as a conservation tour of Morrow County. There were seven stops with an informal talk at each stop describing the conservation objectives and the practice or project applied to achieve these objectives.

The first stop was at the Willow Creek Reservoir where the methods of knapweed control were discussed. These methods included biological, chemical and cultural control. Also an explanation of noxious weeds and state and local laws was given.

The second stop was a CRP (Conservation Reserve Program) field south of Heppner. The description of the program and its effect on Morrow County, environmental benefits and grass identification were discussed.

The fourth stop was on lower

Rhea Creek where a rehabilitation project has been completed. The importance of restoring and protecting riparian areas was discussed at this stop.

The fifth stop was on Gooseberry road 10 miles south of Ione where the conservation practice of using grass waterways and level terraces to reduce soil and water erosion were explained.

The sixth stop was near Bombing Range Road north of Heppner about 20 miles. This stop explained the importance of good condition rangeland and rangeland management.

Stop seven was at Messner Pond near the Port of Morrow at Boardman. Messner Pond is 50 acres of diverse habitat area incorporating woodland, desert, riparian, and wetland habitats into its small ecosystem. Waterfowl and shorebirds are common in the wetland areas with an occasional bald eagle or osprey sighted fishing the open water area. Deer and several species of birds are common in the Russian olive groves surrounding the wetland area.

The tour started in Heppner at the Pettyjohn building at 8:30 a.m. and returned to Heppner about 4:30 p.m.

District meeting held at Holly Rebekah Lodge

By Delpha Jones

The 69th meeting of District #20 was held at the Lexington Holly Rebekah Lodge Hall on Saturday, Oct. 13 starting with 9 a.m. registration. Officers present were chairman Delpha Jones; vice chairman, Vivian McConnell; LSC, Mary Wright and Jo Irvin; LSV, Virginia Peck and Happy Graham; Warden, Donna Blades; Chaplain, Lucile Rietmann; RSC, Annetta Padberg; chairman, Inez Wright; RSPC, Margerat Akers; OSG Mildred Wright and Geri Martin; and musician Vivian Ingles. The invocation was given by the chaplain, with singing of the president's hymn following. Address of welcome was by Virginia Peck from Holly and response was by Mary Eright of Bunchgrass. Introduced at this time was the State Assembly President, Doreen Cladwell and Vice President Lori Dickenson, Assembly Secretary, Joan Blatter; Past President, Helen Goltman; past grand Matriarch, Inez Wright; Community Service Chairman, Bertha Blades; Assistant to the Assembly Marshall, Delpha Jones; and DDP of District #19, Virginia Kellers. Holly presented gifts to the state officers, welcomed and seated them.

Edith Mathews of Bunchgrass #91 was elected secretary and Luella Taylor elected treasurer. The officers were presented with yard ornaments in the shape of a daisy with smiling faces on one side and unhappy faces on the other.

The visitors had many interesting things to tell of Oddfellowship, the home, the friendship center, the eye bank, the arthritis fund and many other projects. Sister Goltman told the group that it was just 11 years ago that she held her official visit in Lexington. The secretary told of the ways to fill out reports and that there must be a 10 percent in charity to satisfy the IRS.

Tribute to the 50-year members was given by San Souci with each lady receiving a lovely pink carnation tied with a ribbon and fern. Five of the 17 members were present to receive their gifts, Margerat Akers, Lucile Rietmann, Edith Mathews and Mildred Wright of Bunchgrass #91 and Anna Graham of San Souci. The members of Holly presented Delpha with a lovely corsage, and the officers gave her a gift. Histories of the three lodges were read, and the chairman read a short history of the district. Mildred Wright was presented a gift, as she was the only current member present from the from the Mistletoe Lodge at Hardman. Seven past chairmen were present to receive the gifts presented by Holly. A tribute to the chairman was given by Bunchgrass.

Reports from the lodges were read, and it was interesting to find so much work for the community and state that these small lodges are doing. One gave 100 percent to the eye bank and all the lodges give to the charities of the state as well as community.

The group then split into three working groups for instruction from the president and the groups learned a lot. Delpha Jones was presented a seal for her unwritten work.

A lovely dinner was served at noon and coffee and cookies were served at the break. Several of the ladies visited later in the dining room. The roll call was as follows: Paulina #13; Integrity #175; Ramona #222; Irving #254; Salem #1; Borning #213; Sunbeam #180; Shamrock #113; Holly #139; San Souci #333 and Bunchgrass #91.

Ione Jr. class to hold burger feed

By Anne Morter

The Junior class of Ione High School will hold a hamburger feed this Friday, Oct. 26, during the last home volleyball and football games.

Food will be served from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. They plan to serve hamburgers, cheeseburgers, hot dogs, chili, baked potatoes, nachos and homemade desserts.

Lodges hold joint meeting

By Delpha Jones

Sans Souci Lodge #33 entertained with a joint meeting with Bunchgrass #91 on Friday Oct. 19 at the hall in Heppner. Visiting were the State Assembly President Doreen Caldwell and vice president Lora Dickinson.

A most interesting meeting was enjoyed with singing accompanied by the State Jewelry chairman, Charlene Shaner, at the piano.

The exemplification of the working sign was given by Hilda Yocum and Delpha Jones. Officers from Bunchgrass closed the lodge with their officers in the chair, with Mary Wright as NG. Helen Pettyjohn was presented a seal for her work.

The San Souci members opened with Vivian McConnell as NG. Tributes were presented the guests, followed by lovely refreshments by the Bunchgrass members. The lodge is meeting in the afternoons, instead of evenings and urge all members to attend.

'By My Hand' fiber show sale to open at museum

'By My Hand,' the exhibit and sale featuring outstanding fiber artists from Morrow, Umatilla and Union Counties, will open its third annual show at the Morrow County Museum, October 29.

An evening reception will be held Friday, November 2, from 7-9 p.m., and the public is invited to view the exhibit and participate in a discussion with free-lance artist and 'By My Hand' juror Judith Hedberg-Duff. Hedberg-Duff teaches classes on lithographic printing and children's art at BMCC for Eastern Oregon State College and introduces children to art through her classes for Saturday Academy sponsored by the Oregon Graduate Center. She will be discussing the cultural influences and historical perspectives that both artists and viewers bring to an exhibit of this nature.

The other two jurors of the show are Michael Booth, BMCC art instructor and director of the BMCC Gallery, and Shelley Cimon, free-lance weaver and draftsman of La Grande.
