Bank of America Heppner branch to close

Bank of America, FSB, announced plans to move the accounts and banking services offered at its Heppner branch to its Hermiston branch in early January 1991, pending regulatory approval. The Heppner branch, formerly Benjamin Franklin Savings and Loan, will be closed according to Doug Vaughan of Bank America Corporation.

Clients of the Heppner branch will be able to use their existing checks and savings passbooks after the consolidation. It will not be necessary for clients to make any changes to their accounts, and service will continue without interruption. Clients will be receiving notification letters

Heppner branch was reached after a careful financial analysis as well as a review of the market served by the branch," said Jim Barri, Bank of America, FSB president. "We recognize that using the Hermiston branch may require travel for our clients, but we're committed to continuing to provide high-quality service to our Heppner clients from that facility.

"We're confident of our ability to continue serving local banking needs through the Hermiston branch," he said. "Every step will be taken to minimize any inconvenience to clients as we adjust our services in the area."

Church celebrates missions

"Celebrating Missions" is the theme for this week at Lexington Baptist Church. Services will be Thursday at 6 p.m. as well as Sunday at 11 a.m. to help celebrate missions.

November 8 at 6 p.m. a potluck dinner will be held in the sanctuary. Those attending will experience what missionaries eat, as some of the favorite dishes of the churches' missionaries will be prepared for the "brave and foolish alike." The evening will feature such delights as cornbread from Africa, meat dumplings from Austria and weekend casserole from America. No one however, volunteered to make the oxtail soup from Africa.

Dave Johnson, former high school science teacher from Grass Valley, and his wife, Clarice, who are appointees to Cote d'Ivoire Africa with the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society will be the featured speakers Thursday.

Share your Sunday with a seasoned veteran and a man who has a heart for people.

The public is invited to join these events to help celebrate missions with others.

Heppner meets Grant Union in Friday playoffs on home field

The Heppner Mustangs will be out to end a three-year jinx against the Prospectors of Grant Union Friday night. The contest matches the old rivals in the first round of the Oregon School Activities Association/U.S. Bank Class 2A football championships. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Morrow County Fairgrounds.

The Mustangs were knocked out of the playoffs by the Prospectors in 1987 as Grant Union posted a 26-0 victory. The next year the two teams met again with Heppner dropping a 28-14 decision. Last year at John Day, a Mustang comeback just wasn't good enough and they lost, 32-28. Ironically, in the 1988 season, HHS rebounded from the opening game of the season with the Prospectors, and marched through league play and playoff contests to advance to the state championship contest only to lose to Salem Academy.

The winner of this Friday's contest advances to the quarterfinals of the 2A playoffs against the winner of the Gaston-Neah-Kah-nie contest. Admission charge for all playoff contests, set by the OSAA, is $4 for adults and $3 for students. Advance tickets are available at Heppner High School. Gates will open Friday at 6 p.m.

A hospitality room will be available for Heppner and John Day fans in the fair annex and will open at 6 p.m. and be available until nearly game time.

The contest will be broadcast on Hermiston radio station KQ-FM 89.3, through Heppner TV cable.
