Correction

Last week in the Eastern Oregon Outdoor Column one paragraph erroneously read "Many hunters who did not apply or failed to draw limited entry tags can purchase a general season elk tag to hunt the Beulah Unit..."

The unit mentioned should have read "...the Desolation Unit..." In order to hunt the Beulah Unit in either the first or second rifle elk hunt, the hunter must have drawn the appropriate controlled hunt tag.

In my haste to prepare for elk season these unit names must have inadvertently become switched.

My apologies for any confusion that my have resulted.

Oregon Cattlemen to meet

Two nationally-prominent cattlemen will keynote the 77th annual Oregon Cattlemen's Association convention Nov. 15-17 at the Red Lion/Lloyd Center in Portland.

OCA's annual convention and trade show will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Oregon CattleWomen.

John Lacey, who, as president of the National Cattlemen's Association, is known as the nation's top cowboy, will be featured on the Friday morning program, Nov. 16. Kicking off the convention on Thursday will be Burton Eller, NCA's senior vice president of governmental affairs. Eller, who heads NCA's Washington, D.C. office, is rated as one of the most outstanding lobbyists in the United States.

Headlining the program that will wrap up the convention Saturday morning will be Chris Christianson, one of the most popular motivational speakers in America. Christianson, a TV personality, author and consultant, is one of the nation's premier speakers on better living.

Cattlemen will also hear from Jim Gibb of the America Polled

Hereford Association: Or. Roy Arnold, dean of the College of Agriculture at Oregon State University; Michael Burke, OSU's association director of academic affairs; and special reports from Wes Jamison and Dr. William Lurch, also of OSU. OCA Lobbyist John McCulley, owner of Professional Administrative Services, will moderate a panel made up of key state legislators.

The convention will be preceded by a bonus session, an estate planning workshop to be held Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 14.

OCA and OCW committee meetings will be held Thursday afternoon with board meetings scheduled on Friday. The convention will include the traditional Western Fun Night on Thursday and the President's Awards Banquet on Friday.

The convention trade show will include about 50 exhibitors representing a variety of products and services.

Convention registration information may be obtained from the OCA office, 1000 NE Multnomah St., Portland, OR, 97232.

Soroptimists to award training scholarship

Soroptimist International of Heppner announces its annual Training Awards Program (TAP). The club will award a scholarship in the amount of $150 to a south Morrow County woman who is entering a vocational or technical training program or completing an undergraduate degree.

Selection consideration will be given to applicants who must enter or return to the job market who need additional skills, training, and education to upgrade their employment status; who have demonstrated motivation, financial need and the capability of performing the work for which they are training. Special consideration will be given to women who are heads of households and can clearly show that specific educational training for entry or re-entry into the labor market and advancement is a need.

In addition to the local scholarship the application of that recipient will be forwarded for further competition. Two $3,000 awards will given in each of the 27 Soroptimist regions.

Applications are available from Heppner High School counselor Liz Curtis by calling 676-9138 during working hours or 676-9454 after hours. The applications are due back to Curtis no later than December 15.

Eighth grade Ponies third in tourney; seventh graders fifth

By Kelsie Evans

On October 25, the Umatilla Vikings were invited to Heppner to play volleyball.

The eighth graders played first. The Ponies played a hard game with many powerful consistent serves winning the first game 15-7.

The second game Umatilla came back winning 15-2.

The third game was closer but Heppner pushed through and won, 15-9 ending their season, four wins two losses.

The seventh graders won their first game, 15-11. The next game was really close but Umatilla came out on top and won, 13-15. Heppner played tough defense in the third game but couldn't hold the Vikings with the Vikings winning 15-11. The seventh graders ended their season 3-3. The seventh grade team placed fifth at their tournament.

On October 27 the eighth grade Ponies traveled to Athena-Weston to participate in a tournament.

The first game was against Stanfield. Heppner had many set-up balls and many power hits to win the game 15-7. Stanfield came back and beat the Ponies in the second game 10-15. The Ponies tough offense and teamwork won the next game 15-2 and the match, 2-1. In the next game against Athena-Weston-blue, Athena passed-set-killed it a lot and won 15-7. Heppner came back during the second game with spikes and teamwork, winning 15-6. The third game was tough. Athena spikes were tough to pick up and Athena won the game 15-5 and the match 2-1.

The next game against Athena-Weston-white, Heppner was more consistent on their serving and held together to win, 15-8.

In the second set, the game was close but the Ponies were confident and had played good teamwork to win 15-13. They won the match in two games. The Ponies placed third in the tournament to end their season.

Canned food drive Sunday

A canned food drive will be held this Sunday, Nov. 11, from 6 to 7 p.m. to help fill area holiday food baskets, said organizer Helen Riehl.

The drive is sponsored by Christian youth and Cub Scouts.

Those who will not be home but wish to donate food may leave it on their porch, said Ronda Wallace of Cub Scout Pack 661.
