

HHS presents three one-act plays

Heppner High School Drama Club will be presenting three one-act plays in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. November 16 and 17. The cast includes (l-r) Rachel Hoobing, Jeanine Michael, Kathy Anderson, Missy Wallace, Aleida Goodyear and Laurel Webber-Gray all dressed in costume for their first play, 'The Princess Who Would Not Marry'.

There will be 15 minute intermission after each play. The Honor Society will sell desserts during the intermissions. The next play will be 'Beyond The Door' and the last play will feature 'The Lady Lingers'.

Ticket price is $2 for adults and $1 for students.

J.J. Shaw elected fraternity director

J.J. Shaw, sophomore pre-engineering major at the University of Oregon, has been elected director of academic affairs for the Gamma Rho chapter of Delta Tau Delta fraternity. Shaw, a 1989 graduate of Heppner High School, will also serve on the fraternity's executive council.

Missionary to speak at HCM Fellowship

Heppner Christian Missionary Fellowship is inviting everyone to two special meetings November 16 and 17 at 7 p.m. at 140 W. Baltimore, Heppner.

The speaker is missionary evangelist Felipe Delgado from Texas. Felipe just recently returned from West Africa where he started a Bible college. He has travelled yearly to Africa since 1980 when "God gave him a vision for that country," said a church spokesperson.

Ione Extension group plans photo workshop Pomona Grange meets

By Anne Mörter

The Ione Extension Club will hold a photography workshop on Monday, November 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the United Church of Christ's basement in Ione. Terry Aichele, photography instructor from Blue Mountain Community College, will be on hand to answer questions about photo equipment and photography in general. Participants are asked to bring their own camera. Everyone is welcome to attend and refreshments will be served.

By Delpha Jones

Wheatland Pomona Grange met Sat. Oct. 27 at the Lexington Grange Hall for the regular meeting with Master William Alford in the chair. All officers were present but two.

The masters recognized at this time were William Alford of Greenfield Grange, Joe Yocom of Lexington and Willard French of Willows.

Officers reports were given. Lexington had a recognition day with the presentation of Golden Sheath certificates and pins, seals for 55 and 60 year memberships and 25 year certificates and pins.

Several interesting things were given for the agriculture report. Agriculture people were advised to talk up agriculture to the non-agriculture people, to perhaps help them know where their food is coming from. Also, a bit of information when the constitution was signed 90 percent of the population was involved in farming, but only two percent today. Eighty-two percent are family farms today.

Barton Clark gave a few words on the cattlemen and their problems of today such as feeding, prices, etc.

The legislative committee urged everyone to study the voters pamphlets and vote as it is one of our country's greatest privileges. It was learned that the government is urging farmers to try other crops on their lands besides wheat and barley.

A resolution committee of Barton Clark, Mildred Wright, Kenneth Smouse and Jean Nelson were appointed to write a resolution against any pay raise for the U.S. congressmen. This was written and passed, and will be sent to congressman, Pomona Granges and the state master.

There was much discussion on increasing attendance at meetings. A contest is planned with the winners being the grange with the most attendance at Pomona meetings for the year 1991.

Archie Bechdolt gave a reading 'The House Where I Was Born,' which he said he learned many years ago. Delpha Jones gave a reading 'Sound Familiar'. The correct way to ballot was demonstrated with Margerat Akers in charge and Delpha acting as the reader. This was most educational.

The degree work was discussed at some length and a motion was made and passed that the degree given as follows, 1-2 degrees by Willows, 3-4 by Greenfield and 5 or Pomona degree by Lexington. These to be done once a year.

The court was as follows: Greenfield 4; Willow 8; and Lexington 14. The next meeting will be January 26 at Greenfield Grange.

Chamber to host PACT introduction panel

Heppner Chamber of Commerce welcomes all interested parents and organization members to join them Tuesday, November 20, for their noon luncheon at the Elks. They will be hosting a panel promoting the PACT (Parents & Adolescents Can Talk) communication program. Panel members will include local health professionals, educators, counselors, concerned parents and Father George Izzett from All Saints Episcopal Church.

The PACT program, sponsored by the Oregon State University Extension, will be a seven-week series targeted toward adolescents and parents of 7th, 8th and 9th graders. Specific ways that community organizations can support the series will be presented during Tuesday's presentation. Evaluations of previous programs in Oregon and Montana resulted in increased self esteem and decision making ability on the part of the adolescent, increased parent-adolescent communication, and increased confidence in parenting roles, said a spokesperson.

"Our youth are the future leaders of our communities. Increasing communication and cooperation within all areas of our community is one of the goals of Heppner Chamber and we look forward to sharing in the introduction of this worthwhile program," says chamber manager Claudia Hughes.
