

Wallace has sound judgment

To the Editor:

We have an opportunity to elect an excellent district court judge in the May primary. I am referring to Jeff Wallace, who is the Morrow County District Attorney.

Jeff has tried all kinds of cases, both criminal and civil. He is a person of good character and sound judgment. I feel that Jeff Wallace, because of his farming background, knows the issues that are important to Umatilla and Morrow Counties. He has lived in the area all his life, and is a former state FFA officer.

Jeff is not only a good lawyer, he is a good person as well. Please join me in voting for Jeff Wallace for Umatilla-Morrow County District Court Judge, Position 2.

Sincerely,

Glenn for commissioner

To the Editor:

Ed Glenn works hard to dig out the facts and then gives thoughtful insight to important issues. He will continue to do so as Morrow County Commissioner.

While Ed likes to promote thorough discussion of many problems, his real desire is to bring us together in a unified manner. Ed will be a very cohesive force in Morrow County, a quality we all need.

I support Ed Glenn for Morrow County Commissioner. He will work hard to give us all effective representation.

Retain Peter Fels

To the Editor:

I encourage Umatilla and Morrow County voters to retain Judge Peter Fels as district court judge in department 2. The extent and variety of Judge Fels' legal experiences in Eastern Oregon courts have enabled him to develop the necessary skills for judicial practice. As our present district court judge, he has demonstrated his ability to preside over district court cases with both fairness and efficiency.

I know that Judge Fels has personal integrity and sound moral standards. These are qualities that I value in a judge for our community.

Allow Judge Fels to continue his competent service as our District Court Judge in Department 2. Join me in voting for Judge Peter Fels on May 19.

Sincerely,

Sullens understands issues

To the Editor:

This brief letter is submitted to show my sincere support for a candidate running in our district for the Oregon House of Representatives, Will Sullens.

I have known Will Sullens for many years. I have worked with Will on several issues ranging from LCDC and land use planning, to the current problems associated with the state's attempt to confiscate our water rights. The issues are complex and have a direct impact on all citizens in rural Oregon.

Most importantly is that Will understands the issues, and he listens. His concern and convictions for the well being of our rural environment, and his posture on private property rights is what drives my support for him.

In this day of political rhetoric, I am sick and tired of unfulfilled promises, and the ineffectiveness of the people we send to Salem.

If you have observed our legislature recently, it has performed pitifully. This state is in trouble; we need people with strong leadership ability. For the first time in many years, I am excited about the opportunity we have to send someone like Will Sullens to the legislature. He will be accountable; all areas of this vast district will be served. Will is a good man who we can count on to defend our interests in rural Oregon.

Please take a moment and analyze the candidates. When you do, I hope you find as I have, there is only one clear choice to represent all of us in Salem and that is Will Sullens. I encourage you to register your support for him on May 19.

Sincerely,

Has respect for Glenn

To the Editor:

I am writing in support of Ed Glenn and his candidacy for county commissioner in the upcoming primary election. I have a great deal of respect for Ed and know him to be an honest man, a fearless advocate and a good friend.

I have only known Ed for a short time compared to many in this community but have found him to be impeccably honest. I have seen him on several occasions relinquish what was rightfully his when due to the too impassioned work of an employee, he felt he might be perceived as having taken advantage of someone. Ed does not want to be successful at the expense of others.

As many people know, Ed is not afraid to take a stand on an issue he believes in. When Ed takes a stand he believes that he is right and receives his assurance from this belief. What many people don't know, however, is the degree to which Ed respects the opinions of others.

Ed and I disagree on many issues from taxes to politics to fishing methods. While in these disagreements we seldom compromise, I have never, and I do mean never, known a man who showed more respect for my opinions...whether contrary to his or not.

Ed is a good friend. He is constant, considerate, fair and loyal. Any politician showing these qualities is a rare find indeed and worthy of your consideration.

I encourage you to support Ed Glenn for county commissioner in the upcoming primary election.

Elect Wallace

To the Editor:

I have been acquainted with Jeff Wallace since he first got out of law school and came to Pendleton to practice law in 1976. I have always felt that his temperament and legal abilities would make him an outstanding judge.

Jeff is a candidate for the Morrow-Umatilla County District Court Judge Position 2 in the May primary. I feel that he is the best candidate for the job and urge everyone to vote for him.

Jeff is from Umatilla County but now lives in Morrow County as the district attorney there. I have lived in both counties and know that it's important for Morrow County to have representation in our courts as well as Umatilla County.

Jeff Wallace will serve the cause of justice well. Please elect him as our next district judge for position 2.

Sincerely,
(s) Laura Moore

Library district a good deal

To the Editor:

The Oregon Trail Library District is a good deal for us. If it is approved, it will result in all city and rural library users paying for the services they receive.

Formation of the district will cause utilities and industry to pay the bill for about two thirds of the cost of operating the libraries, libraries that are used by the employees of these businesses. The estimate of $10 per household living in a $40,000 home in the proposed library district seems like a pretty reasonable cost. For this we will get all the present services plus some needed improvements in our library offerings.

We're in favor of forming and funding the Oregon Trail Library District and we're going to vote in favor of it.

Fels best candidate

To the Editor:

Several candidates of quality are running for the district court position presently held by Peter Fels. It is our belief that Peter Fels is the best candidate for district court judge, department two for three important reasons. First, Peter Fels presently holds the position and by all accounts has done a superb job. Secondly, he speaks Spanish fluently which is an important asset since a high percentage of court cases involve Spanish speaking people with little or no English skills. Finally, Mr. Fels is a man of high quality. He is honest and dedicated to strong and fair justice system. Peter Fels is the kind of person we all want serving in our court system. Join us in supporting Peter Fels as district court judge, department two.

Initiative would jeopardize city

To the Editor:

Soon many of you will be asked to sign an initiative petition started by Tom LaRusso of Bend, Oregon. The petition, if enough signatures are obtained, would place a measure on the ballot prohibiting the city of Heppner from raising new taxes or increasing the taxes now existing. While this measure sounds inviting and you may think, what's the harm of putting the question to the voters, be aware of the following:

1. The city may be forced to reduce services even further than has been required under Measure 5.

2. The initiative may prevent the city from generating sufficient revenues to meet expenses because it does not define the term taxes.

Heppner has just suffered the worst budget cutbacks it has ever seen. The police force is at the lowest manpower it has been in many decades. The fate of continuing police and fire protection rests with the voters on an upcoming bond issue. Further cuts in city revenues will result in drastic service decreases. With our pool, and library gone and police services cut, we must ask ourselves, can we afford to lose more?
