

Letters to the Editor

Mexican hats off

To the editor:
Our Mexican hats are off to the city of Boardman for a great summer celebration of "Cinco De Mayo" last Sunday.
We couldn't count the numbers but the success of the day was apparent with a park full of local Mexican and Anglo residents enjoying themselves with dance, food and games.
This celebration is a credit to the leadership in Boardman in the names of Mayor Bill Brown and his wife Myrtle, and La Fuerza Hispana. These key leaders plus the multitudes of help, both Mexican and Anglo proves that a community can benefit by cultural exchange of music, food, dance and other social attributes.

It appears to us that this will be a growing event in Boardman and one that will be of greater value as the need for cultural understanding becomes more and more important in Morrow County.
Maybe, just maybe, if other cities such as Los Angeles, Portland and the like were to take note of the qualities of different ethnic backgrounds, human beings would be more tolerant of one another.

Supports Glenn

To the Editor:
This letter is in support of Ed Glenn for county commissioner. I have known Mr. Glenn for about 14 years and as a person he is a pleasure to be friends with.
I think he'd bring a lot to the office of commissioner. (My father works for Union County and I have known a few of the commissioners there.) There is a lot of responsibility riding on that office and if anyone could take on that position it is Mr. Glenn.
Too often a county official is elected and then fades into virtual obscurity. Mr. Glenn will not do so. He is too concerned about informing the public (hence his 'little paper') to quietly run the county without the peoples' input.

As a pillar of our community, Mr. Glenn is someone who recognizes a problem, lays a plan to solve it, and puts that plan in motion. He has done much to help our community in the 14 years since I've been in Boardman. In fact, he served on the first regional strategies in Oregon.
After following various campaigns, there is definitely one office with a choice you can be happy with. Mr. Ed Glenn for Morrow County Commissioner.

Without district libraries close

To the Editor:
This letter is to urge you to vote yes for the formation of the Oregon Trail Library District. If the cities of Heppner and Boardman want library services this district is a must. Without the library district, these libraries will close. With the library district, they will be able to stay open for longer hours, have more book selection and expand program.
The state library has committed $150,000 to the district, if formed, to meet these goals. The need for libraries has caused citizens of Boardman and Heppner to join hands and work together to develop a library plan meeting the needs of both communities. If we want to maintain a high quality of life for ourselves and our children, if books and education are important, a yes vote for the Oregon Trail Library is a must.

Sincerely,
(s) William J. Kuhn Heppner

Yes for library district

To the Editor:
My family and I are long time users of the Heppner Public Library. We have observed the reduction in book buying over the last year due to Measure 5 restrictions. The library in Heppner and in Boardman are both gearing up for summer reading programs which involve a substantial number of children. This will not happen with the current city budgets.

I urge you to vote yes for the Oregon Trail Library District. This will allow our summer reading program to continue throughout Morrow County and will allow purchase of adequate numbers of books to keep the children interested. For us and for our children, vote yes.
Sincerely,

Recommends Wallace

To the Editor:
It is a pleasure to recommend Jeff Wallace for your vote for district court judge. Seldom does a candidate have the range of experience and knowledge of the area as does Jeff Wallace. With a farm background, an excellent legal education, an outstanding military experience and as an attorney with a working background in both private practice and in the district attorney office he has the tools to do a great job as district judge.

As district attorney in Morrow County for the past five years he has aggressively fought the multiple problems caused by drugs. Jeff Wallace has my unqualified support for district judge.
Sincerely,
(s) Stafford Hansell Boardman

Murgo shows courage

To the Editor:
For many years in the legal profession there has been an unwritten "rule": a lawyer does not run against an incumbent judge. Many lawyers have feared that to do so would risk serious prejudice against them and their clients for years to come. Thus, any lawyer interested in becoming a judge would have to wait until a vacancy occurred—through retirement for example.

It takes a great degree of courage and principle to challenge this practice. Rudy Murgo is a lawyer who has demonstrated such principle and courage. Over the past three and one-half years I have worked with Mr. Murgo, I have found him consistently to be meticulous professional and fair in his practice of the law. He has a very broad background of experience in many different areas of the law, both criminal and civil, as a former deputy district attorney, a former private attorney, and as a city attorney. But one of Mr. Murgo's greatest assets is his appreciation for the importance of a fair judicial process. If the process is fair, the result will generally be fair.

I do not hesitate to voice my support for the election of Rudy Murgo as district court judge. When a lawyer of Mr. Murgo's qualifications and character becomes a candidate for judge, perhaps it is a good time to pass the baton on to a new generation.

HERE'S WHAT OREGON'S GREATEST REPUBLICANS SAY ABOUT GEORGE WINGARD:

HON. VIC ATIYEH
Governor of Oregon
1979 - 1987
When asked in March 1992 to update his comments of 1980, Governor Atiyeh said, "I still agree with what I said 12 years ago."

"George is an experienced legislator who has earned my respect for creative problem-solving. One of the qualities I saw in George during our service in the Legislature was how hard he worked to serve his constituency. This diligence, combined with his problem-solving ability, convince me that he would do a great job as State Treasurer."

HON. WENDELL WYATT
Congress, R-1st
1964 - 1975

"George has lived in Oregon for 50 years. As a businessman he has met a payroll for 36 years. (Something his opponent has never done.) He knows what it means to pay taxes, meet a payroll, and make a profit in good and bad times in Oregon. That's why we need George as our Republican nominee for State Treasurer. He is the only candidate with the business experience to manage Oregon's $20 billion dollar Trust Fund. Join me in voting for George on May 19th."

HON. DAVE FROHMYER
Dean, University of Oregon Law School
Attorney General of Oregon
1980 - 1991

"George is a person of great courage and integrity. Let us hope our children will grow up with the same values. His character is an important reason why I support him as our next State Treasurer. Equally important are the talents and experience he brings to the job. George is exactly the right person. Join me in supporting him."

BOB INGALLS
Former Editor and Publisher of the Corvallis Gazette-Times, former State Representative and Alternate to the Republican National Convention

"George Wingard is one of the most innovative, intelligent, and energetic people I know. He understands finance and investment. Wingard would be an outstanding State Treasurer for the people of Oregon."
