

Pipe arrives in Ione

Workmen are shown unloading pipe from railcars in Ione Tuesday. The pipe will be used in construction of a natural gas pipeline, to be buried next to an existing line that now runs near Ione.

Eleven cars were unloading on Tuesday, but there will be a total of 90 cars unloaded and stored in a field between the grange hall and the Morrow County Grain Growers fertilizer plant this year. Next January another 300 carloads of pipe are scheduled to arrive.

The Betchal Corp. is constructing the pipeline, which will carry liquefied natural gas from Canada to Southern California.

4-H pre-fair set June 20

What's a fashion narration? How do I prepare an interesting narration? How do I select accessories and props for My Favorite Outfit modeling? and where can I learn basic modeling turns and poses? These are some of the questions that will be answered at the 1992 Morrow County Home Economics/Expressive Arts Pre-fair.

Techniques to move confidently across the stage, with head held high, will be taught by Glenda Madden, Gilliam County 4-H agent. Pre-fair will also include presentations on: "Cooking for Competition" by Jo Anne Kock, Sherman County 4-H agent; understanding the fair premium book; and an introduction to judging contests.

All 4-H members, parents and leaders are welcome to attend this free non-competitive activity. This educational event is extremely helpful for newer 4-H members. There will be a session to explain how to fill out the fair pre-registration forms, and a tour of the fairgrounds. The more 4-H members know about fair activities the more they will relax and enjoy the experience.

This is the place to get answers to questions about 4-H fair activities including "My Favorite Outfit" modeling contest. The judging guidelines for this popular county contest, open to all 4-H members, have been revised for 1992. "I hope as many members as possible will come to the pre-fair modeling workshop" comments 4-H agent Carol Michael-Bennett. Glenda Madden will share modeling tips from Washington and Lane County style revues.

Registration begins at 8:45 a.m. on Saturday, June 20. The modeling workshop will be conducted from 10:45 a.m. until 12:15 p.m. There is no charge to attend, but participants are asked to bring a snack for the break. For more information, contact the Extension office, 676-9642.
