Heppner High School students, under the direction of technology teacher Dave Fowler built a supply storage unit at the high school as a student project.

The students in woods I, II and III and drafting and technology survey framed the walls, hung, taped and finished the drywall, installed doors and painted the building. The building has four rooms to store student projects and one room to store supplies. Fowler said that by creating an upper deck on the building, used for long-term storage, the unit increased the useable space in the lab. Kinzua Corporation donated all the lumber.

Widowed/Singles group plans picnic

The Widowed Persons/Singles group in South Morrow County is sponsoring a potluck picnic on Friday, June 5 at noon at the Heppner city park. Hamburgers and beverages will be furnished along with table service. Games will also be played.

"All widowed and single persons are invited to attend," stated Irene Schroeder, coordinator of the event. Contact Schroeder 676-9132 for more information.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

It's that time of the year when people begin to think about a vacation. Hopefully, you'll go "there" and invite "them" to come here. People who inquire about Heppner are encouraged to visit our museum, courthouse and small friendly retail stores. There's nothing like browsing up and down the streets of a small town to relax and stretch your legs while traveling...much better than fighting for a parking place in a mall. Along those lines, let chamber help you whether you're planning a trip or just welcoming visitors.

* Another Hospitality Workshop is scheduled for June 24 in Boardman and June 25 in Heppner. The cost is $5. Registration forms are available at the Chamber office, due June 10. The workshop will demonstrate how to "Put the Oh" in your business or place of employment. Registration should be sent to Morrow County Tourism Committee % Heppner Chamber, Box 1232, Heppner.

* The tourism committee is a composite of all county chambers, the Port, Forest Service, Historical Society, businesses, anyone interested in promoting our Morrow County towns. One and all are welcome to attend their meetings. The next one will be at RJ's, Lexington, 4 p.m. Wednesday, June 17.

* The new Oregon events calendar for spring and summer 1992 is available at the chamber office and numerous copies of the Portland book just arrived. We can also obtain information across the United States for your travel plans. Just stop by to check the directory for chambers and visitors centers across Oregon and the U.S.

* An inquiry came in the mail today for great swimming holes...the area's best. We'll share our lakes and rivers, but right now if any swimming holes exist, they're probably the best kept secret in Morrow County.

Next week at Chamber: Gary Marks, city manager, will be presenting vital information on the public safety bond, necessary to retain our fire department. Visitors are always welcome to visit chamber, noon, first through fourth Tuesdays at the Elks.

Rodeo Court takes first at Spray

The Morrow County Fair and Oregon Trail Pro Rodeo Court recently traveled to the Spray Rodeo, where they participated in the parade and grand entry. The court won first place for their efforts out of eight participating court entries.

In addition to participating in the annual Arlington Rodeo the first of May, the group has been busy with speaking engagements around the county, ticket selling and summer preparation.
