

Corrections

In the June 24, 1992 issue of the Heppner Gazette-Times the Sheriff's office reported that Michael Glenn Smith of Heppner was arrested on June 15, 1992 on the basis of a warrant issued by Hermiston District Court for failure to appear on a game violation. The District Attorney's office has since learned that Mr. Smith had, in fact, appeared and taken care of the game violation prior to the warrant being issued. However, due to an error in the filing of the citation, a warrant was mistakenly ordered. Mr. Smith should not have been arrested.

The District Attorney's office and the Sheriff's office apologize for any inconvenience caused to Mr. Smith.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, chamber manager

Heppner is beginning to "pop up" here, there and everywhere. Hot off the press is "The Best Free Historic Attractions in Oregon and Washington". Our Morrow County Museum and Hardman Ghost Town, as well as the chamber listing are included in this publication. If you haven't visited the museum recently, do so. Many people coming for the past weekend's class reunions were pleasantly surprised and plan to make a return visit. Marsha has agreed to have the museum open during the Vintage MotorCycle visit and the chamber of commerce "Steak Out" on Thursday, July 16 at 6:30 p.m. city park. Steak dinner with all the trimming tickets are available by calling the Chamber office 676-5536. Chamber members look forward to welcoming British Columbia visitors with a fun evening in the park. Fifty tickets are available, and need to be purchased in advance, first come, first served. Proceeds will go towards additional promotion for the community.

Programs scheduled for the remainder of July at Chamber are: July 14-Forest Service, related to evening Town Hall meeting, how a fire would affect Heppner; July 21-Kevin Erich, our medical facilities; and July 28-Dennis Maloney on the Eastern Oregon Alliance and Sagebrush Coalition.

Thought for the week: "A small town is a place where mass transportation means giving someone a ride to church."

Valby church plans ice cream social

The second annual old-time ice cream social is scheduled for Sunday, July 26 at 6 p.m. at the Valby Lutheran Church located on the Lone-Gooseberry Road.

The public is invited to enjoy ice cream served from old-time crank-type freezers with a choice of many toppings. An evening of fun is planned with short skits, music, a barber shop quartet, jokes and group singing of old-time songs reminiscent of the ice cream "feeds" of yesteryear.

Worship service will be at 4:30 p.m. instead of the regular 9 a.m. service. The event is co-sponsored by AAL for the purpose of church building repair.

"The people who came last year enjoyed it so much that we have decided to make it an annual affair," said a church spokesperson.

Valby, an historic country church, was built by Swedish settlers and dedicated in 1886.

Garden club plans picnic

PUBLIC NOTICE

The city reports that water samples taken in June have shown the presence of total coliform bacteria, which is a violation of state and federal water quality standards. No fecal coliform bacteria were present in any of the samples, and no total or fecal coliform bacteria were found in samples taken directly from the wells.

Total coliforms are common in the environment and are usually not harmful themselves, but are used as an indicator of overall water quality. The presence of total coliforms in the system's water is probably a result of problems with the distribution system piping.

On July 13th, the city will disinfect the 750,000 gallon reservoir with chlorine at 1 part per million. The chlorinated water will be flushed through the distribution system over a period of several days. Residents may experience "taste and odor" problems until the chlorine has been totally flushed through the entire distribution system.

No action is warranted by residents at this time.

The water system will take additional water samples after the system has been completely flushed with chlorine.

Federal regulations require that the water system provide the following mandatory language:

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, is generally a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and associated with headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects.
