

'Make It With Wool' contest slated

By Anne Morter
Plans are being made for the annual district level "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. The contest will be held October 10 in Ione. With fair time rapidly approaching, District 7 director Maureen Krebs, reminds potential contestants that one garment may be used for both contests if the fabric is at least 60% wool.

District contests are held around the state with winners in the junior and senior categories advancing to the state competition to be held November 14 in Portland in conjunction with the Oregon Sheepgrowers Convention. A state junior and senior winner then advances to the national competition to be held January 20-23 in Dallas, Texas.

Maureen Krebs directs District 7 which includes residents of Gilliam, Morrow, Umatilla, Wasco, Sherman and Hood River counties. The contest is open to men and women with four age groups starting with pre-teen, 12 and under; junior, 13-16 year olds; senior, 17-24 year olds; and adult, 25 and over.

Garments are initially judged on the entrant with appropriate accessories. Judges look for current fashion, appropriateness of fabric and style to the entrant, fit, poise, and presentation. After modeling, garments are judged on inner construction and durability.

Last year's senior champion from this district, Jimi Kaye Alexander, went on to win the state competition and advance to nationals. Both the junior and senior national winners were men last year.

The deadline for entries is September 25. Entry information is available by writing Krebs, at Cecil Star Route, Ione, OR 97843, or call 422-7548.
