4-H's attend home ec pre-fair

More than 30 4-H members, junior leaders, leaders and parent gathered at the Morrow County Fairgrounds on Saturday, June 20, for the 4-H Home Economics Prefair. Bridgett McElligott opened the program with the 4-H Pledge. Jo Ann Kock, fair judge and extension agent from Sherman County, shared tips and guidelines that will help members impress judges. Glenda Madden, fair judge and extension agent from Gilliam County, took participants through modeling poses and turns.

Kay Proctor, 4-H volunteer, conducted an informal tour around the fairgrounds, and explained where to check in, and the location of awards ceremony, livestock sale and style review. Maryan McElligott, Maureen Krebs and Monica Swanson, 1992 4-H superintendents, were introduced to members and parents. Carol Michael-Bennett explained the clothing judging contest to interested parents and leaders, and taught adults easy ways to set up judging contests of their projects.

Pam Worden, Marcia Anderson and Dani Hill conducted a recreational game, "Partners Balloon Race." Tracie Bunch and Carley Drake registered members and prepared certificates of participation.

4-H members were: Jessica Krebs, Dawn Boor, Maci Childers, Miranda McElligott, and Bridgett McElligott of Ione; Kristi Worden, Macy Rhea, Amy Drake, Phillip SpicerKuhn, Brooke Sweeney, Julie Watkins, and Audra Bunch of Heppner; Dani Hill of Lexington, Heather Anderson, Jessie Bray, Lara Fritz, and Brandi Purcell of Boardman, Abigail Beltane, and Jason Strebin of Irrigon.

Morrow County picnic planned

By Delpha Jones

The 1992 Morrow County Picnic will again be held at Laurelhurst Park in Portland, Sunday, August 2, from 2 noon to 5 p.m.

The picnic draws many people from the area who enjoy visiting with those they don't often see. A special raffle for "super" prizes will be held as well as a white elephant table. Proceeds will be used for financing the picnic.

Those attending should bring potluck food and their own table service.

Chairpersons this year are Audrey and Gene Normayle, Portland, 760-1539 for more information.
