Obituary

Alice Nichoson Newell

Alice Nichoson Newell died August 6 in San Francisco from cancer. At her request, there were no services, and disposition was by cremation.

The only child of Fred and Edith Nichoson, Mrs. Newell, was born April 26, 1926, in Ione, where she attended both grade and high school, graduating as valedictorian of her senior class. Upon completion of high school, she attended Oregon State University, prior to moving to Portland to enter the field of public relations and advertising. While in Portland, she worked for McCann Erickson and then, Dawson, Turner & Jenkins, Inc., working on such political accounts as Mark Hatfield's campaign, and the 1964 presidential bid by Nelson Rockefeller.

In the late 1960's Mrs. Newell accepted an offer to move to San Francisco to work for Carl Byoir & Associates, Public Relations, a position she held until her retirement. As account manager there, she was responsible for several national accounts, two of which, Tylenol and the American Bankers Association, brought her back to her native Oregon on several occasions. Active in her industry organizations, she was a member in Portland of the Oregon Ad Club, as well as the Public Relations Roundtable. In San Francisco she served first as a member of the board of directors of the Public Relations Society of America, and later as its president.

Outside of her career, Mrs. Newell was an avid gardener and took great pride in the fact that, along with her husband, was responsible for starting the "community garden" at Fort Mason in the Marina district where they lived, a project that she remained involved with until the time of her death.

She is survived by stepsons Kyle and Jason, her husband Jack of San Francisco, numerous relatives in the Ione/Heppner area, and many friends in both Portland, and San Francisco.

The family suggests contributions to a favorite charity.

PUBLIC NOTICE

A Public Meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. September 14, 1992 at the Heppner City Hall for the purpose of presenting information regarding proposed improvements to the City of Heppner Wastewater Treatment and Disposal Facilities. During the meeting, questions and comments will be received from the public.

In 1989, the Heppner City Council approved a Wastewater Facilities Plan that identified deficiencies in the City's wastewater treatment system, and presented alternatives for making improvements. The City Council selected a plan to improve the existing Wastewater Treatment Plant and to construct a spray irrigation system for summer effluent disposal that would meet requirements of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality. The voters in the City of Heppner approved a $625,000 general obligation bond and the EPA awarded the City a grant for the remainder of the project costs.

Since completion of the original Wastewater Facilities Plan, a number of obstacles have risen during a two-year long effort by the City to site a spray irrigation facility and a storage pond, including land use laws and regulations, floodplain regulations, lack of suitable sites, and landowner concerns. From the struggle to find an acceptable effluent disposal alternative, a new promising alternative has emerged that will meet the requirements of the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality and the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife. This new "Split-Flow" Alternative will still include rehabilitation and upgrade of the existing treatment plant as originally planned, but will also include the summertime irrigation of treated and disinfected effluent on the Willow Creek Golf Course and nine acres adjacent farm land and nine acres of adjacent farm land with a limited amount of effluent to be discharged into Willow Creek. During winter months all of the treated and disinfected effluent will be discharged into Willow Creek.

Since the "Split-Flow" Alternative was not evaluated during the original facilities plan process, an amendment has been prepared as required by the DEQ and the EPA to be sure the proposed new "Split-Flow" effluent disposal plan is cost-effective and environmentally sound. A copy of the Facilities Plan Amendment is available at City Hall for review by interested persons during the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. weekdays.

The "Split-Flow" effluent disposal alternative will be discussed at the public meeting at 7:30 p.m. September 14, 1992. Interested persons are encouraged to attend. Questions and comments will be welcome. Following the public meeting the City Council will consider final approval of the "Split-Flow" Alternative and the Facilities Plan Amendment. Gary B. Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

We're very fortunate to have our rural lifestyle and quality of living. It feels good when Chamber members work together pulling weeds and doing other community pride projects. It's also exciting to see the changes and improvements on around town...clean brick, awnings, old buildings restored, flowers, etc. I recently read an article, "Heading for the Hills", which indicates that people are fed up with metropolitan living and are looking for alternatives to translate their professional skills into a rural business. "In a 1991 Gallup poll, three out of four American professionals living in urban areas or highly populated semi-urban areas said they would rather not live in a metropolitan area." Given a choice, 52% preferred a rural area or small town. It went on to say that stressed out Americans wanted more control over their lives. A book "Country Bound" has been written addressing the trend toward rural business development. This makes one wonder what Heppner will be like in another 20 years or sooner. That's why it's essential that the Heppner Coordinating Council work with everyone to establish a comfortable growth level and support the vision of what is best to keep our rural quality of living. We need to be prepared for and encourage growth, but know how much and what kind is best for Heppner.

Many visitors staying for a few days helps the economy and keeps our "rural for real" lifestyle. Consider that the tax dollars you leave with your motel bill in other communities helps them promote their town for visitors, so it would be to Heppner's advantage to have visitors contribute to the promotion and future of our community. A no vote on the transient tax appeal will ensure dollars to keep promoting Heppner's special qualities and events. Visitors mean a positive environment for families where business and people thrive.

Thought for the week: "To admit that you have been wrong is but saying that you are wiser today than you were yesterday."

Tartar-Control Toothpastes

Dental experts indicate that there are two primary causes of tooth loss in adults 35 years of age and older. One cause is gum (periodontal) disease and the other is tooth decay (dental caries). Much of the dental education directed at the public is targeted toward the prevention of gum disease and tooth decay. One of the major factors in the development of both conditions is the presence of plaque on the gums and teeth.

Dental plaque is sticky, colorless film of bacteria that is constantly forming in the mouth. After a meal that is especially high in sugar, plaque begins to form. If plaque is not removed within a reasonable period of time through brushing and the use of dental floss, it tends to harden into a material that is called calculus or "tartar." Tartar is difficult to remove and often requires the services of a dental hygienist or dentist. Tartar-control toothpastes are promoted as products that slow the rate at which plaque is converted into the harder tartar material.

Tartar-control toothpastes include zinc chloride or various pyrophosphates as active ingredients. In one recent study of a toothpaste containing both ingredients, individuals were told to brush their teeth twice daily. Results indicated that the formation of tartar was reduced by as much as 38 percent. One person in the study experienced slight gum irritation.
