

Wool contest deadline Sept. 26

By Anne Morter

The deadline for entries to this year's Make It Yourself With Wool contest is this Saturday, Sept. 26. Completed entries must be returned to District Director Maureen Krebs, Cecil Star Route, Ione, 97843 by that date. The contest will be held on Oct. 10 in Ione.

The contest is open to residents of Morrow, Gilliam, Umatilla, Wasco, Sherman and Hood River counties. Age categories include pre-teen (12 and under); junior (13-16); senior (17-24) and adult (24 and over). Winners in the junior and senior divisions will advance to state level competition.

Entry forms are available from local county extension agents, many local fabric stores or from Krebs. For further information contact Krebs at 422-7548.

Lexington Baptist church plans Round-Up Sunday Sept. 27

Lexington Baptist church will hold its third annual Round-Up day Sunday, Sept. 27. The day's activities start at 9:45 a.m. with Sunday School followed by church at 11. The famous Chuckwagon stew and biscuit feed will follow the church service. "Since we have a western theme, everyone is encouraged to wear western attire to our services," said Pastor Glenn Anderson. The morning service will feature the Moreland family from Battleground, WA, bringing special music.

"We have a delightful time each year on this Sunday and encourage those who do not have a church home to come to Round-Up Sunday," added Pastor Anderson.

MCCYS holds drawing contest for children's calendar

In recognition of children's week the Morrow County Youth Services Commission is offering a drawing contest for Morrow County children Kindergarten through third grade.

dars will go to the Morrow County Youth Services Commission.

Interested children in Heppner, Ione and Lexington should meet at the Heppner Library October 6-8 from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Children in the Boardman, Irrigon area should meet at the Boardman Community Library Oct. 5, 7 and 8 from 3-4:30 p.m.

Ione plans community potluck

By Anne Morter

Tentative plans are being made for the annual Ione Community potluck. The date has been set for Oct. 25 and will be held at the Legion Hall.

The event is sponsored by Valby Lutheran, United Church of Christ and St. William's Catholic Church. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

There were 113 in attendance at the Senior dinner Sept. 16 with four meals taken out. Members of the Methodist church served. Wilbur Jackson won the meal ticket; Dorothy Henderson the door prize and the guest prize went to Rosetta Palmateer.

September 30 has been designated dress up day, so put on your best bib and tucker and join the fun at the birthday dinner. The menu will be cold sliced turkey, baked beans, cantaloupe, bread, fruity jello, ice cream and cake. Members of the Lutheran church will serve.

Friday Sept. 18, 11 seniors and Gene Cole bus driver enjoyed the Westward Ho parade in Pendleton. They ate lunch at the King's Table before returning to Heppner.

The quilters are planning to work on Christmas articles in October and November, wall hangings, stockings, Christmas tree skirts, etc. Anyone wishing to do this type of decoration is welcome to come, learn or share your ideas and expertise. Quilters & Company meet every Monday from 1-4 p.m.

The RSVP fall banquet will be held in Pendleton at the Salvation Army Community Center Oct. 4, from 1-4 p.m. Those who have volunteered at least 16 hours in the year are eligible to attend free of charge. Be sure to register right away with the RSVP of Eastern Oregon, PO Box 935, Pendleton 97801 giving your name, mailing address, phone number and number of years you have been a member of RSVP.

The Senior Center is saving Central Market Red Apple receipts. If you wish to help, bring yours to put in the container in the office, or the one in the dining room. Your help is appreciated.

Remember to come swing into shape with the exercise class Tuesday and Thursday 10-10:30 a.m.

Final preparations made for 'Herstory'

Final preparations are being completed for the presentation of Herstory, The Mother's Tale, at St. Patrick's Parish Hall on Saturday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 p.m.

In this musical play, Mary tells the life of her son to Luke, who records the events. She recalls her personal joys and sorrows, being a refugee in a strange land, a frantic mother of a missing child, a grief stricken witness to the suffering and death of Jesus. Her memories reveal a Jesus who loved each person unconditionally. His love shattered the conventions of his day as he ate with sinners, cured the sick on the Sabbath and forgave the women taken in sin. Herstory is about the healing of hearts, memories, the turning of darkness into light, despair to hope and sadness to joy. Sacrificing his life, and rising gloriously alive, Jesus revealed that death is a doorway, and life is eternal.

Pie and cake will be served at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available from Murray Rexall Drugs and the R & W Drive In at Heppner; Martha Munkers in Lexington; and June Crowell in Ione. There is a suggested $5 donation for tickets.

Flower arranger to attend meeting

The Heppner Garden Club will host Connie Tellefson, a flower school teacher and arranger on Oct. 5 at the Senior Center in Heppner. Tellefson has recently returned from teaching flower judging school in San Jose, CA.

Members are to bring fall dried arrangements for her to critique. She will also demonstrate preserving materials, essentials of arranging and demonstrate how to do arrangements.

A potluck supper will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the program to follow dinner.

Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend and bring displays and questions to this meeting. "This should be a very interesting and learning experience," says a spokesperson. "Please join us on Oct. 5."

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

The vote is in. The chamber appreciates those who supported the transient room tax, thus enabling your Chamber of Commerce to continue promoting our local businesses, events and to continue responding to the numerous relocation and tourism requests. We are always receptive to hearing the mutual needs of business, industry and the citizens of Heppner, so that we can effect actions, programs and projects to meet these needs.

Shopping out of town is an excursion for many of our citizens. Our local merchants understand this, but please keep in mind these six good reasons to shop locally: 1-dollars spent locally stay in and work for our community; 2-the firm you buy from pays local taxes to support our community; 3-the store you buy from will stand behind its goods; 4-you can transact business with friends; 5-money you spend here stays here to create jobs for your neighbors; 6-as a result, your community will grow and prosper. We're often fooled into thinking we save a few dollars on a product by going out of town. Instead, we have used 100 miles plus worth of gas, probably eaten out, and more than likely purchased 20 other items we could just have well done without, not to mention the time we have wasted. I'd rather shop locally and save my "excursion energy" for other things. It beats long lines, driving home tired and having to unload the car after an exhausting day. It also helps to maintain a business district, that attracts visitors and that we can feel proud to list as our home address.

No chamber next week as it is the fifth Tuesday. October 6 will be our monthly business meeting and the candidates issues forum at 7 p.m. at Heppner High School cafeteria. Dick Temple will be the master of ceremonies.

Thought for the week: "All that is necessary for evil to triumph is for good men to do nothing." (Attributed to Edmund Burke, Irish-born British statesman, orator, and author.)

BMCC Fall classes to begin soon

Blue Mountain Community classes held in South Morrow County will begin soon.

Spanish I, taught by Victoria Broden will be held on Mon. and Wed. 7-8 p.m. at the Heppner Junior High. Registrations are still being taken for an intern class and unless more people register the class will be cancelled.

Step-aerobics, taught by Kay Fowler will begin Sept. 28 and is scheduled for Mon. and Wed., 7-8:15 p.m. An aerobics class taught by Vicky Rayburn will be held on Thursdays beginning Oct. 1 from 7-8 p.m.

"Creative Art" taught by popular local Echo artist Darla Hanson will be offered for three weeks beginning Oct. 7.

Bob Lanman will be back by popular demand to teach three computer classes; MS DOS intermediate advanced; Lotus 1-2-3 and Setting Up Your Home Computer.

Dave Fowler will teach a 10 week woodshop course on Wednesday from 6-9 p.m. beginning Sept. 30. One woman finished remodeling her bedroom and is starting on her kitchen.

Come and learn about the Oregon Trail on Sat. Oct. 3 from 9-3 at Ione. An exciting adventure is in store for all those who register.

Teachers are reminded to pre-register and apply for in-district credit prior to computer classes taught by Sarah Carlson. Classes will be held in November.

For more information on any of the classes contact Sue Warren 422-7040. Students must pre-register for all classes.

Community center completes fall plans

The Hardman Community Center met Sunday evening with 15 members present, to complete their fall program plans.

Oct. 3 the Center will hold their annual Oyster, Ham and Salmon bake from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Last year over 290 people attended and committee members hope to have a bigger crowd. Bob Allen is the cook for this function.

Halloween will be celebrated with the annual haunted house and supper. This will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 30 to avoid conflicts. This too, has been a successful event with members as characters in the 14 special rooms in different themes. A donation of $1 for the haunted house is suggested. Members serve as witches, gorilla, Dr. Jeckyl, etc.

November 14 is the date decided on for the annual Bingo and spaghetti feed. Once again Bob Allen will be the cook.

All proceeds are used for upkeep of the Community building, fire truck and the two cemeteries. "Come support these worthwhile projects to maintain one of the few remaining historical buildings in the Hardman Ghost Town," said a spokesperson. "See you there for some fun filled evenings."
