

Fair board seeks suggestions for 1993 fair theme

Plans are underway for the 1993 Morrow County Fair. The fair committee is taking suggestions for the 1993 fair theme. Suggestions should be mailed to the Fair office, Box 464, Heppner.

The committee is asking people to save the pumpkin seeds from their pumpkin and plant them early next year for entries in the "Pumpkin Patch" contest. There will be categories for all ages and for all shapes and sizes of pumpkins.

Another new item at the fair will be a Christmas tree in the craft department. Christmas ornaments that are entered in various craft departments will be displayed on the tree after they are judged. "So when you are making your various ornaments this year," suggested a fair committee spokesperson, "whether they are made of wood, beads, fabric, or something else, be sure and save one or more for the tree."

Cast selected for melodrama musical

The cast has been chosen and is in rehearsal for the Heppner Intergenerational Theatre gay nineties melodrama musical "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" coming to Heppner High School stage November 15.

The cast includes Aleida Goodyear as Nellie Lovelace (as true as she is tender); Bryce Tucker as Adam Oakhart, (as brave as he is bashful); Christine Burkenbine as the Widow Lovelace, (as sweet as she is simple); Tony Becket as Mookie Muggins (as rude as he is rustic); Jim Raible as Munro Murgatroyd, (as wild as he is wicked); Lea Mathieu as Ida Rhinegold (as deep as she is dyed); Cyde Estes as Mrs. Upson Asterbilt (of Newport and Brooklyn); Joyce Hughes as Fleurette, (the French maid, Ooolala!); and Paula SpicerKuhn as Little Nell (who never had a father). Debby Wryn is the pianist and Jane Rawlins the director. Chuck Nelson has the stage set under construction.

This HIT show will again be dessert theater which our audiences enjoyed in the fall season of '91.

Methodist to host district superintendent

The Rev. Dennis Mullins, district superintendent of the Methodist church, will attend the worship service of the Heppner United Methodist Church Sunday, Oct. 18. Following morning worship at 10:30 a.m., the congregation will gather for a potluck dinner, after which Rev. Mullins will preside at the church conference.

The fall church conference is an annual meeting where officers are elected for the coming year, reports are given, concerns are expressed and items of business are transacted. Rev. Mullins will give a report and regards from the Oregon-Idaho annual conference and the bishop. The regular monthly administrative board meeting will follow the conference.

The Rev. Mullins supervises 44 churches in the central district of the Oregon-Idaho annual conference of the United Methodist Church. These churches extend from Klamath Falls north to the Columbia River, and from Hood River eastward to Payette, Idaho and all places in between.

Rev. Mullins and his wife, Neva, reside in Bend. His central district covers an area larger than the state of Washington.
