Letters to the Editor

Business congratulated

To the Editor:
I received the following letter last week praising one of our local businesses, Skaggs Auto Clinic. I am passing it along to you to share with your readers. Congratulations to Skaggs Auto Clinic.

Sincerely,
(s) Kathryn E. Robinson
Mayor, city of Heppner

Dear Mayor:
Every year at this time I visit your city to hunt the Heppner Unit for deer and elk.

At Arlington my truck started running poorly. We limped into Heppner to Skaggs Automotive. Rob Skaggs did some checking on our truck and thought it needed a major rebuild. Rob asked if the Ford truck was under warranty, I thought no. Rob gave us a cost to repair the truck of $2,300 and said he could be finished by elk season. Well we contracted Skaggs to do the work and went on with the hunting trip with our friends in their truck.

Monday when I returned home Rob had called. It seemed Rob had called Ford Motor Company and found that indeed the truck was under warranty and that the cost would be $100, not $2,300.

A Ford garage would have to do the work. I went back to Heppner and towed the truck to Portland, and had the truck repaired at a cost of $122.50. Rob Skaggs could have repaired that truck for $2,300, and I would not have known about the warranty.

I do not know if you have an outstanding citizen award or anything like that. Well, if you do, I would like to recommend Rob Skaggs for this honor.

I thank you for your time. I thank Rob Skaggs, one of Heppner's best.

HIT melodrama set Nov. 15 & 24

To the Editor:
Last fall local audiences enjoyed an old-time melodrama show on stages in both Heppner and Ione. This entirely new kind of humor and audience appeal to be found in these old melodramas had made them popular everywhere in the past few years. "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" that HIT is producing on Nov. 15 and 24 is based on a genuine old melodrama first produced in 1867. It has been arranged for groups with limited production facilities, at the same time seeking to maintain the picturesque flavor of the original production. It contains authentic songs of the gay nineties, both hilarious and tear-jerking bits, tableaux, and lots of opportunities for the audiences to boo, hiss, "Ah" and applaud.

Emoluments arising from the exertions of HIT will be appropriated to worthy purposes, pre-school programs.

The number of tickets for sale (at Murrays) will be limited to the magnitude of the building.

A generous variety of delectable desserts will be available but smoking cigars will be prohibited.

Sincerely hoping you'll come for the fun.
