Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, chamber manager

*Soft spring rain, the greening of the hills and a bonus sunny day to work in flower beds found many this weekend out in their yards pruning rose bushes. Speaking of rose bushes, since it will be awhile before those in your yards become reality, the Heppner Chamber of Commerce is again participating in the annual rose sale. April 7 "Everything is Coming Up Roses" in Heppner and the surrounding area. For $15 per dozen, you may have roses delivered to a special person just because you're thinking of them. To order a dozen roses, call the Chamber office 676-5536, my home, 676-5349, Rollie Marshall 676-5453 or contact any chamber member before Tuesday, March 30. This is one of the chamber's non-dues income projects which helps them continue their plan of work without raising dues. It's also one of the most rewarding because of the smile it brings to recipients.

*Remember six years ago when the Rose City Motorcycle Club and friends came through Heppner? We greeted some 1,000 bikers and some of them remember eating a pancake dinner to help fund the senior center. They want to return on Saturday May 7 and hope to have their checkpoint in the "heart of downtown Heppner", so that participants who wish to take time to eat or look around may do so. Their checkpoints are Biggs, Heppner, Monument and Condon. We'll be on hand to give them a grand small town welcome and invite them to return when they can spend more time.

*The St. Patrick's Wee Bit O'Ireland wrap-up meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. Kate's Pizza Wednesday, March 31. All committee chairpersons are encouraged to attend. We'll be setting the date for our 1994 celebration and reporting on 1993.

Thought for the week: "Spring is nature's way of saying, 'Let's Party'."

ed by the men of the Grange the meeting was called to order. Two readings were enjoyed, "The Life of St. Patrick", by Dorothy Wilson and "Food for Thought" by Dot Halvorsen. Morton Wolverson, past state master and a present member of the State Executive Committee, gave a demonstration of floor work. During the meeting the group practised balloting and how to introduce a distinguished guest. Dot Halvorsen of Willows Grange filled the chair of LAS and Wolverson the chair of Overseer. Wheatland Pomona Grange members were asked to assist with the serving of the dinner on Friday at the state Grange session in Pilot Rock. Margerat Thorpe was musician for the evening and assisted in the floor work practice.

The meeting on April 19 will be booster night for the Grange. Members of the South Morrow County Community Choir will be a part of the program along with the presentation of 50-year jewels and certificates. Ben Boswell of Lostine, State Overseer, will be the speaker for the evening. A potluck dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend the dinner and the program.

4-H Speakeasy April 3

Morrow, Gilliam and Wheeler counties join forces to put on an annual "Speakeasy" field day. This year "Speakeasy" will be held on April 3 at the Ione High School. Each field day is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Those attending should bring a sack lunch because participants will work during the lunch hour.

The easiest way to learn how to do a presentation is to attend a "Speakeasy" field day, says Bill Broderick, Morrow County extension agent. This workshop is filled with activities to help overcome the fear of public speaking. 4-H'ers will play games, watch sample presentations and use fun kits to practice creating presentations.

Horse clinic set March 17

The Two-Trackers club will host a riding clinic featuring Pat Prince from Walla Walla this Saturday, March 27, at the Morrow County Fairgrounds beginning at 10 a.m.

Prince will demonstrate and discuss the correct use of the aids in the performance of the advanced equitation pattern and the Dad

Marketing basics class offered

Are you thinking of starting a small home based business to increase your household income? Have you thought of the "Perfect" Oregon Trail souvenir for the tourists this summer? Have you ever been "burned" by an investment in a "fantastic" product of your own creation that no one purchased?

A quick, intense workshop for you and other handcraft entrepreneurs, will be offered from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 21 at the Morrow County School District Office, in Lexington. The $3 registration fee will cover handout materials and coffee. The workshop will be limited to the first 25 paid registrations. Registration deadline is April 16, or when workshop is filled. To register contact the Morrow County Extension office 676-9642.

Marketing Basics is geared to help a person identify what kinds of products customers will want to purchase, where they are most likely to buy them and what is a reasonable price to ask for their creation. Participants will also learn ways to create an attractive sales display, and close sales.

Workshop presenters will be Darla Seale, owner of Country Flowers in Condon, Garth Davis, Small Business development Center, Blue Mountain Community College, Pendleton, and Ginger Keithley, county craft artist of Heppner.

As an option, workshop participants may bring an original product, and submit it for anonymous critique.

Potter movements from 10 a.m. to Noon. All ages and levels will benefit. In the afternoon, he will work with individual riders, helping them with specific problems. Those wanting help should bring their horse.

Those attending should bring their own sack lunch. Donations will be taken to help pay for Prince's expenses. For more information call 989-8132 evenings.

--Philip Tellechea attended an overnight youth meeting in the Tri-Cities over the weekend. The group enjoyed bowling, playing hockey, ice skating, pizza and attended a hockey game.

--Norman Newton from Portland, brother of Luella Taylor, was a recent visitor at the Taylor home.

--Kenneth and Connie Jones were Boise, Id., visitors over the weekend. They visited a son, Shawn Eng and other relatives and friends.

--An officers' training session for Grange members was held at Cold Springs Grange Hall on Saturday March 13. The meeting was conducted by the state master Dale Morris from Portland. Each officer present gave instructions to the subordinate chairman of the duties of their committees. Those attending from Morrow County were Willard French, Master of Willows Grange, Joan Griffith, member of Spray, Delpha Jones, county deputy of Wheatland Pomona and Cecil Jones, treasurer of Wheatland Pomona Grange.

--Dorothy and Ed Tucker and son, Kyle Tucker, and family were guests over the weekend at the home of her parents Glover and Josie Peck. Around 21 friends and relatives were present on Sunday for a birthday dinner honoring Glover on his birthday.

--Frances an Ken Smouse and daughter, Cheryl, spent several days last week in Portland and Monmouth where they visited son, Carl, and attended to other business matters.

--Holly Rebekah Lodge met on Thursday evening for the regular meeting with the N.G. Kathy Tellechea in the chair. Plans were made for the next two months' activities, starting with a card party at the hall on Saturday, April 3. These parties have been held the first Saturday of each month this past winter. Proceeds go to the upkeep of the hall, such as roofing, oil and electricity, etc. Members are most appreciative of the members and friends who come to support this.

--A food sale is planned for the Saturday before Easter, April 10. An Easter bonnet style show with members decorating hats will be held at the next meeting. The hats will be judged with a prize for the cleverest.

Virginia Peck won the door prize.
