

Lexington Baptist presents awards

The AWANA club at Lexington Baptist Church held their end-of-the-year awards banquet on Wednesday, April 28, with approximately 100 clubbers and their parents in attendance. Pastor Glenn Anderson gave a devotional based on AWANA's key verse, found in II Timothy 2:15. He charged the listeners to strive to become "Be Students."

Following dinner the annual awards were presented based on the clubbers' achievements. Loren Unruh, WANA commander and Sparks director, started the presentations with the Sparks (kindergarten through second grade clubbers). First Book Ribbons were presented to Sarah Barrow, Johnny Collin, Amy Jepsen, Daniel Jepsen, Jessica McGuire, Kimberly Morris, Isaac Stillman, Isaiah Stillman, Tommy Stillman, Krystal Temple, Darren Van Cleave, Matthew Van Cleave, James Van Liew, and Casey Zumwalt. Sparks plaques, representing completion of all three Sparks handbooks, were presented to Darren Van Cleave and Meaghan Unruh.

Tom Norton, director of the Pals and Pioneers, presented annual awards. In the PALS club, third and fourth grade boys, David Norton earned his first book ribbon. Pioneers, fifth and sixth grade boys presented with their first book ribbon were Matthew Van Liew and Ben Stillman. Van Liew also earned the excellence trophy for his accomplishments in earning 80 total grade points while completing two handbooks.

Sue Norton, director of Chums and Guards, presented the awards to the Chums (third and fourth grade girls) and Guards (fifth and sixth grade girls). Chums who earned their first book ribbons were Emily Unruh and Jannicka McGuire. Emily and Jannicka were also presented with handbook review pins. Receiving Guards awards were Kaylee Zumwalt earning her first book ribbon and a handbook review pin.

Leaders were awarded pins for their years of service in AWANA. Earning their first year pins were Andrew Anderson, LaRee Anderson, Mary Kay Bellamy, Nancy Jepsen, Mike McGuire, Truman Messenger, Marguerite Messenger, Frances Murty, Karen Temple, Sandra Van Liew, Chirella Wallace, and Barbara Zumwalt. Second-year pins were presented to Glenn Anderson, Phyllis Anderson, and Kathryn Unruh. A third-year pin was presented to Loren Unruh. Tom and Sue Norton have served the longest, both being awarded six year pins.

Sparks Leadership Service pins were presented to LaRee Anderson, Nancy Jepsen, Mike McGuire, Truman Messenger, Marguerite Messenger, Karen Temple, Sandra Van Liew, and Chirella Wallace. The Sparks Award pin, for completing three Sparks handbooks, was presented to Sandra Van Liew.

AWANA "Bus Mom" certificates were also presented to Mrs. Van Cleave, Mrs. Collin, Mrs. Gates, and Mrs. Morris for their willingness to transport clubbers each club night.

Pastor Tim Van Cleave closed the evening with a prayer of thanks to God for a successful year and encouragement for next year's club.

League winners honored

The Sparetimers Bowling League recently honored its top bowling teams. Awards were given for the first and second place teams.

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

The Senior Center was humming with activities last week. Tuesday, chairman Stan Hoobing met with members of the Focus group to finalize plans for the health fair.

There were 120 people in attendance for the senior dinner on April 28. Nine meals were taken out. Members of the Nazarene and Seventh Day Adventist churches served. Rose Moe won the meal ticket, Lea Matthieu the door prize, Doris Drake the guest prize and Mary Goheen the birthday gift. A short board of directors meeting was held following dinner.

Thursday, April 29 was the Health Fair with many health care booths. There was a good turnout, though not as many as hoped for, said a spokesperson for the event, but a good beginning.

The Friday night dance was well attended, with more Hermiston and Pendleton people than local seniors.

The Garden Club plant exchange Saturday was a success with many beautiful plants and bulbs available.

There was only one table of cards in play Friday afternoon. Several other people gathered to visit.

Twelve people enjoyed videos from Alaska and Ireland Sunday evening.

Bus trips scheduled during May include a trip to the Pendleton meal site on May 6; John Day meal site Fri., May 14; Milton-Freewater May 18; Baker Museum and Interpretive Center Friday, May 21; Spray Senior Center May 27. Stop by the senior center for departure times. Seniors wishing to go on any of these trips may call the Senior Center 676-9030 or stop by the office to sign up.

Dates to remember: Monday, Bible study 10:30-11:30 a.m., quilting 1-4 p.m.; Tues. and Thurs. exercise 10-10:30 a.m.; Wed., noon dinner; hearing aid man and foot clinic first Wed of each month. Call Home Health for appointment; blood pressures taken second and fourth Wed.; Friday cards and games 2:30 p.m.; bus to Hermiston dance Saturday 6:45 p.m.; Sunday movie, 7 p.m.

The menu for Wed., May 12 Mother's Day dinner is baked chicken, whipped potatoes, spinach, muffins and cherry crisp. Methodist church members will serve.

Seventeen seniors took the 55 Alive class Monday and Tuesday, May 3 and 4 in the center dining room. Lunch was prepared and served by Mary Ella Moyer. This is a good brush-up course to improve driving skills.

Tacrine: New Medicine for Alzheimer's

Recently the Peripheral and Central Nervous System Drugs Advisory Committee of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) unanimously recommended approval of tacrine (Cognex by Warner Lambert). The recommendation was made for the treatment of symptoms of mild to moderate Alzheimer's disease, the most common form of dementia.

Alzheimer's disease is a neurological condition which affects about four million Americans, or one out of ten persons over the age of 65. Some of the more complex abilities associated with thinking and remembering, such as language and perception, are lost.

Researchers are focusing their efforts on neurotransmitter substances in the brain and enzyme inhibitors that affect memory and cognitive ability. One transmitter material is called acetylcholine. Some research has been directed at evaluating the value of administering substances, such as lecithin, that increase levels of acetylcholine in the brain. During the last few years researchers have discovered that other substances such as tacrine inhibit an enzyme that destroys acetylcholine. The presence of acetylcholine is thought to help Alzheimer's patients. In one recent study, over half of the patients who received 80 mg of tacrine a day for 12 weeks showed improvements in cognitive assessment scale ratings.
