BMCC offers history courses

Blue Mountain Community College is offering courses on Women in the West, Oregon Trail and Morrow County history, this summer in Lexington and Boardman. In-district credit is available for all Morrow County elementary teachers grades one through six, and all social studies teachers grades seven through 12.

Women of the West is a look at the women who lived in this region and an exploration of the mythological dimensions of their existence, the diversity of their experiences and the factors that shaped their lives. Class will be held on three consecutive Thursday nights June 24, July 1 and 8 from 7-9 p.m. in the Lexington School building. At its conclusion, a class on Morrow County history will resume in the same time slot July 15, 22 and 29.

A special one-day Saturday course on the Oregon Trail will be offered in two locations, Sam Boardman Elementary School and the Lexington School building on June 26 and July 24 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. This course will attempt to present an overall synthesis of the overland emigration. Applying the concept of "change through time," it examines the emigrant's reasons for undertaking the journey, life on the trail, the perils involved, and the emigrant's role in shaping the region they entered. The overlanders are placed in a historical perspective by reflecting on the significance of the current celebrations honoring the anniversary of the Oregon Trail. A "trail fare" lunch will be served to ali participants.

Tuition is $15 per course, with an additional $5 lab fee for the Oregon Trail class. Seniors over 60 years will receive free tuition. For registration contact BMCC's south Morrow County coordinator, Sue Warren, 422-7040. Registration may also be made through BMCC's West Campus, Margaret Saylor, director, 567-1800. For information concerning the course content, contact instructor Theresa Lindsay 989-8468.

Elementary teachers and secondary social studies teachers wishing to receive in-district credit (0.5 per each course) must fill out the in-district credit application forms available from all school offices and return them to the district office no later than two-weeks prior to the beginning of each course.

The Women of the West and Oregon Trail classes will be offered for college credits this summer in Pendleton and Hermiston. For more information contact Margaret Saylor 567-1800.
