By Anne Morter

Lists of St. Jude Bike-a-thon participants have been posted at various locations in Ione, Lexington and Heppner. Two names, Kimberley Morris and Kasey Childers, were inadvertently omitted from the list. Event coordinator Loa McElligott regrets this omission. Both participants did complete the course.

McElligott also reminds riders that their pledge sheets and money should be turned in by May 30. Funds can be turned in to the Bank of Eastern Oregon in Ione or the Morrow County Abstract and Title in Heppner.

Ione Garden Club talks about herbs

Ione Garden Club members met at the home of Birdine Tullis on Wednesday, May 12, with Pat Pettyjohn assisting. District No. 10 director, Eva Lou Greiner, of Condon made her annual visit. Another special guest was Katherine Lindstrom. An informative tape on the use of herbs was the subject for the day. Fresh herbs provide a great deal more flavor than dried ones. They may be stored in the refrigerator or blended with water, oil or butter and frozen. Herbs may help one cut down on the use of salt.

During the business meeting new officers were installed by the district director and each officer was presented with an herb indicative of her duties. The group voted to donate $25 to the 4th of July celebration for prizes. The report on the spring plant sale indicated that it was very successful with 94 people signing the guest book.

Following the meeting a plant exchange was held and members viewed Birdine's yard.

Students experience pioneer days

"The Pioneer Living Experience" a hands-on historical displays was featured at Heppner Elementary school May 18. The display took children and adults back to pioneer days.

Besides grinding flour, kids were able to churn butter, roll out bread dough, wash clothes on a wash board, pump water, sharpen a tool on a grinding wheel, pan "gold", make an arrowhead, make a necklace and wash card and hand-spin wool for a bracelet. The kids were also able to view displays and play with some of the handmade toys that pioneer children played with.

The Pioneer Living Experience, put on by Terry and Shannon Hess of Tualatin, has brought the pioneer life to over 93,000 students in the state over the past two years.
