Oregon state grange holds meeting

The Oregon State Grange met for their annual convention June 21 through 25 in Pilot Rock. On June 23 the Oregon State Grange delegate body passed three resolutions dealing with legislative matters.

Legislation Resolution 1 calls for the Oregon Public Meeting law to be amended to require all public agencies in the state of Oregon to have an open citizen comment period during public meetings and accept citizen comments or written statements on each action item on the agenda of any public meeting. According to a Grange news release, the Oregon State Grange will also support HB 3214.

Legislation Resolution 5 recommits the Grange to the 'Homestead Exemption' philosophy by directing the Oregon State Grange Executive Committee to co-sponsor and write an initiative petition that would change the limit on income producing property. The tax rate would be limited to no more than 2.5 percent and agricultural and forestry land property tax exemptions would be maintained at their current level to prevent the loss of "these vital lands from production," said the release.

Legislation Resolution 11 calls for a constitutional amendment that will require any administrative rules developed to carry out a statute enacted by the Oregon Legislature be reviewed and adopted by the Oregon State Legislature. The constitutional amendment will also require that every bill approved by the Legislature contain a statement of "Legislative Intent".

Acne Affects Eighty Percent of Teenagers

Acne affects 80 percent of the U.S. population between the ages of 12 and 25. This condition is a problem that results when a "plug" composed of skin, oil, and various secretions from the skin clogs the channels or pores from which a hair grows (called hair follicles). Blocked follicles widen and often produce cysts. Cysts may fill to form "whiteheads" or work to the surface of the skin and take on a black color ("blackheads").

Self-Care: Keep the skin as clean as possible. Remember to wash off sweat after exercising. Use oil or grease-free soap, make-up, and moisturizers. Water-based skin products are preferable. Avoid picking or squeezing the skin which irritates the follicles and could cause further plugging.

Drug Treatment: Benzyl peroxide as a lotion, gel, cream, or wash is one of the safest and most effective medicines for mild to moderate acne. This medicine releases free oxygen in the skin and reduces the production of irritating fatty acids. Benzyl peroxide also helps loosen the outer skin layer. Antibiotics such as tetracycline, erythromycin, and minocycline often are helpful in decreasing free fatty acids and bacteria in hair follicles. Other acne medicines include tretinoin (Retin-A), isotretinoin (Accutane), and over-the-counter medicines that may contain sulfur, salicylic acid, or resorcinol.
