Letter to the Editor

Get to work people

To the Editor:
Those with Judeo-Christian values who are complaining about the way things are going in our country and in the media need to do something, instead of just praying. The Bible says, "Faith without works is dead," (James 2:20 and 2:26).
If something on TV offends you, don't just turn it off, notice who is sponsoring it, write to them and tell them you will not buy their product as long as they encourage such viewing.
If you read something in the paper that is against your morals, write a letter to the editor about it.
When I was a correspondent for Salem's "Statesman" I was told that one letter to the editor carried the weight of 10 thousand. That was because when 10 thousand people had an idea only one would take the time and effort to voice that opinion. And you don't have to stop with your local paper to write to. A copy of the Oregon Blue Book (available at any library) will give you the names and addresses of all the newspapers in Oregon.

A little time, effort and spending some money on stamps can pay off for you and for future generations.
Get with it, all you God-fearing people, the time to work is now.
