

Deborah Kendrick does an activity with preschoolers at story time.

Deborah Kendrick, 29, Heppner, has been hired as the story teller and library clerk for the Oregon Trail Library District Heppner branch.

Kendrick, who began work Sept. 21 has a bachelor's degree in architecture from the University of Oregon. Kendrick grew up in California and has lived in Heppner for the past year and a half. She lived in Eugene prior to coming to Heppner.

Kendrick and her husband, David, who is employed with the Forest Service, have two children, Kate, three and Sarah, five months.

In addition to being in charge of story time, Kendrick will fill in for librarian Dorothy Wilson during meal breaks and will provide "more continuity in library hours," according to district librarian Wendell Buck.

Story time will be on Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m.

Children invited to jungle program, banquet

Jungle Village performers to be at Christian Life Center

Christian Life Center, 535 W. Morgan St., invites all children ages 5-12 to a Kids' Missions banquet on Oct. 8 at 6:30 p.m. The banquet will be followed by a program put on by the Jungle Village.

The menu will be mini-hamburgers, mini-hotdogs, macaroni and cheese, gelatin dessert, punch and banana splits. Door prizes will be given away to everyone who comes.

What would the animals say if they could talk? In Jungle Village you don't have to wonder. They speak for themselves, and they always have something to say. Whether it is the vegetarian crocodile, the body building gorilla or the serenading parrot, they all have the same message: "There is a God who created all living things and He loves you."

Jungle Village was developed in 1990 by Steve and Mindy Benintendi who serve as missionaries to the Asia Pacific region. Jungle Village began as a traveling family entertainment program that utilized puppetry, ventriloquism and gospel illusion. Soon printed materials began to follow. Currently, comic books and other evangelism literature pieces are being produced.

Thousands of children and teenagers are members of the Jungle Village Adventure Club. "Our Jungle Village animals make great penpals. Through this interactive club hundreds each month are hearing the gospel for the very first time," said a church spokesperson. "Hundreds have found Christ as their personal savior. Whole families have turned to Jesus."

Jungle Village has shared the message of Jesus Christ in Malaysia, Singapore, Thailand, Burma, Sarawak, Sabah, Brunei and Cambodia.

Anyone wishing to attend the banquet should call the church 676-5581.

Clay projects to be distributed

Clay projects completed by children in the Neighborhood Summer Project will be on display and distributed to the children Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Heppner city library.

The clay objects were created by the children under the direction of Ron Forrar.

The Rev. Grace Drake, project organizer will be on hand to distribute the objects.

Meeting set for drama ministry

The first meeting of those interested in drama ministry will be held at St. Patrick's Parish Hall on Thursday, Sept. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in speaking parts, making sets, costumes, make-up, publicity, etc., is welcome to attend. The first play being considered is "Lady On The Rocks", a story about alcoholism.

Child care video conference to air October 9

Anyone concerned with providing high quality child care should attend "Achieving High Quality Child Care," a national satellite videoconference on Saturday, October 9.

The morning videoconference will be held from 8:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. at the Morrow County Extension office, Pettyjohn office building, Heppner.

Participants will receive a certificate of participation and three hours of educational units. There is no charge to participate, but pre-registration is necessary.

To pre-register or for more information, contact the site coordinator Carol Michael Bennett, at Morrow County Extension Service, 430 Heppner Lexington Highway, or call 676-9642 or 1-800-342-3664.

Presented by the University of Idaho and the University of Nebraska, the videoconference will address child care topics such as: Providing a safe environment; Using safe food handling practices; Complying with child and adult care food program nutritional requirements; Operating a child care facility as a business; Providing positive guidance and discipline; Communicating with children and their families; Recognizing and reporting abuse; and Identifying local resources.

NOTICE OF NAMES OF PERSONS APPEARING TO BE OWNERS OF UNCLAIMED PROPERTY

THE STATE OF OREGON MAY OWE YOU MONEY

The State of Oregon has over $36 million in unclaimed accounts for owners who cannot be found. Last year, companies reported the following names of current unclaimed accounts owners. If you see your name, or a relative's name, you may make a claim if you SEND IN THE COUPON BELOW, to the Division of State Lands. The Division will forward the coupon to the company with instructions to contact you directly.

If the Division does not receive the coupon WITHIN TWO WEEKS OF THIS PUBLICATION, the company will transfer custody of the unclaimed accounts to the Division. You may still claim the account, but the Division will not send you claim information until AFTER JULY 31, 1994.

The Division publishes notices throughout the state and receives numerous responses, and cannot provide information by telephone. The best way to see if unclaimed assets were reported for you last year, is to fill out the coupon and send it in today.
