The District Attorney's office at the courthouse in Heppner reports handling the following business during the past week:

James Roderick Random Mabe, 24, Boardman, has been sentenced to 60 days in jail for Violation of Probation.

Mabe was arrested for possession of methamphetamines and possession of pornographic materials. He was lodged at Benton County Jail.

They were ordered to pay restitution of $1,000 each in addition to a $45 unitary fee and were placed on one year probation with no further violation of the law.

Site council at HES/HMS organized

The state-mandated instrument for shared decision making, the 21st Century School Council, has been organized in preliminary elections and meetings at Heppner Elementary and Middle School. Future meetings will be held the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Heppner Middle School Library. The

HHS Site council meets

The Heppner High 21st Century Schools Site Council met Oct. 8 at Pioneer Memorial Hospital for an all-day ed-net teleconference inservice put on by the Oregon Department of Education and Oregon's Educational Service Districts. Lone Schools Site Council also attended the program.

The inservice was designed for site councils throughout the state to help give them definition, direction, and coping strategies for the future.

Dave Fowler, HHS instructor, was the facilitator of the inservice. After each telecast segment, Fowler had the two councils individually discuss and participate in related activities.

Those attending learned ways to make change more positive and accepting, individually, and for others in light of the changes forthcoming from the Oregon Schools Reform Act. They were also informed of the legal parameters of 21st Century Site Councils.

Consensus decision making strategies were discussed to help the council get along better as a group. The council also identified important requirements or goals the council had achieved or was already doing.

The council assessed and prioritized areas in which the council was weak. They have established a plan to improve upon those weaknesses.

The council decided that its top priority is to get an initiation grant application in before the upcoming deadline. Also, the group decided it needs to come up with a mission statement, or general guiding principles.

Another area for improvement the council cited was establishment of regular and open line of communication with parents, community, business, school board, district office and staff. They hope to encourage open public input prior to and following council discussions.

The next regular meeting of the HHS Site Council is Wednesday, Oct. 27 in the HHS library at 6:30 p.m. Anyone interested in attending is welcome.

Here's something to think about, borrowed from an ERIC search, United Nations Demographic Data, 1985.

"If we could at this very moment shrink the earth's population to a village of precisely 100, but all the existing nations remained the same, our population mix would look like this. There would be 57 Asians, 21 Europeans, 14 Western Hemisphere people and eight Africans. Seventy of the 100 would be non-white and non-Christian. Fifty percent of the entire world's wealth would be in the hands of only six people and all would be citizens of the United States. Seventy would be unable to read; one would have a university education, 50 would suffer from malnutrition and 80 would live in substandard housing."

When one considers our world from such an incredibly compressed perspective, the need for acceptance and understanding becomes glaringly apparent.

Next week's Chamber program will be HB #3565. Steve Dickenson will be explaining changes we'll be seeing in the education system and some of the ways Morrow County will be affected. Meanwhile, I'll be attending an Oregon Chamber executive's conference and leading round table sessions on community events.

Speaking of events, the leprechaun who went to visit the Main Street Cowboys mysteriously appeared beside my desk this morning. While little Irish men may be capable of walking through locked doors, there is someone who knows more about this than they're owning up to. Just part of the intrigue of our Irish celebration, I guess.

Fever Blisters Affect 80% of the Population

Fever blisters or cold sores are very common, affecting up to 80 percent of the American population. Blisters are caused by a virus known as herpes simplex. When the virus is active, which may occur following an infection, stress, exposure to sunshine, or hormonal changes, the virus becomes highly contagious. When active, the virus frequently is spread to others by kissing or touching infected lip areas with the fingers. A yellowish crust forms over the blister. Fever and swollen neck glands may be present also.

While there is no cure for fever blisters, various topical ointments and lip balms may relieve some of the lip pain and discomfort. Ingredients in these products may numb the blisters, control infection, or soften the crusts that often form over the blister. Although there is continuing research regarding the prevention of fever blisters with a vaccine, none is available currently. According to the National Institute of Dental Research, scientists have developed a vaccine that has prevented the herpes simplex virus from infecting test animals.

Acyclovir is approved to treat genital herpes. This prescription medicine has been shown to reduce the symptoms and frequency of fever blister recurrences in some individuals.
