Letter to the Editor

White House destroys woods products

To the Editor:

I am angry. Angry that outsiders from Washington, D.C. and the Eastern Establishment are trying to turn my state into a wasted wilderness for private, selfish reasons.

It is obvious that this group has Mr. Clinton in their back pocket. The current occupant of the White House is trying to destroy Oregon's wood products industry. He is also trying to take away our farms, ranches, fishing industry, homes and guns.

There have been only two members of Oregon's congressional delegation that have spoken up about this crisis, and not one governor or gubernatorial candidate has even wanted to talk about it. The people who want to sleep in the governor's mansion are sleeping on the true issues.

Oregonians know they have "God's country" and know how to manage it and not destroy it. Do you really think the wood products industry will cut down so many trees that they will put themselves out of business? The true environmentalists are Oregonians. We use our forest for all purposes and we are still green. Does the thought of Oregon seceding from the country frighten you? Does it send chills up your spine? Think what it would do to Washington, D.C., and the rest of the country.

It's time for an extremist voice to take up the call. The same type of voice of a John Adams, a Martin Luther King, a Cesar Chavez to confront an injustice. Someone that cannot be bought or threatened. Someone that will stand toe to toe against those who are bent on destroying our quality of life. It is time for somebody to say no to a president named Bill just like a group of people 217 years ago said no to a king named George.

Dear editor, the issue is not more taxes for state government but saving our natural resource industries and creating new jobs. It is time for Oregonians to take back Oregon.

Please notify your readers that this is a grass roots movement. I am just a person from the streets. I need their support. If I have that support, I will run governor of Oregon and seek the Democratic party nomination in the May primary election.

Sincerely,
(s) Bill Bowen
