Swanson — Ashbeck

Jodee Alene Ashbeck and Mark Eric Swanson were married November 27, 1993, at Our Lady of Angels Catholic Church at Hermiston. Father Francisco Vallejos officiated.

Jodee is the daughter of Alvin and Julie Ashbeck, Echo. Mark is the son of Wayne and Geri Swanson, Pendleton.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a cathedral train and Queen Anne neckline. The gown was accented with Schiffler lace, sequins and pearls. She wore a chapel-length veil with a blusher, attached by a pearl headpiece.

Maid of honor was Jenni Ashbeck, Pendleton, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Angie Stewart, Pendleton, sister of the groom, Elizabeth Doherty, Pilot Rock, Amy Greenup and Sandi Day, both Heppner, all friends of the bride. The bridesmaids dresses were made by Dolores Ayres, the bride's grandmother, of The Dalles.

Greg Sherman, Pendleton, was best man. Groomsmen were Andy Ashbeck, Echo, brother of the bride, Scott Swanson, Pendleton, brother of the groom, Jeff Wood, Jerome, ID., and Rick Schimmel, Pendleton, both friends of the groom.

Flower girl was Becky Schiller, Echo. Ring bearer was Shae Schimmel, Pendleton. Readers for Mass were Calvin Ashbeck, the bride's uncle, and Kelli Ashbeck, the bride's cousin, both Pendleton. Candlelighters were Jason Sallee, Arlington, and Beth Ayres, The Dalles, both cousins of the bride.

John Doherty, Pilot Rock, was soloist. Organist was Doris Pitzer, Hermiston, and Paul Green, Pendleton, was guitarist.

A reception following the ceremony was held at Our Lady of Angels Catholic Parish Hall. Cindi Swanson, Pilot Rock, the groom's sister-in-law, and Mary Sallee, Arlington, the bride's aunt, cut and served the cake. Gloria Kelty, Athena, and Pat Frost, Salem, both aunts of the groom, served coffee and punch respectively. Kathleen Ayres-Booren, Beaverton, the bride's aunt, coordinated the reception with Martha Munkers, Lexington and Janet Greenup and Patty Gentry, both Heppner, assisting.

The bride graduated from Heppner High School in 1990 and attended Blue Mountain Community College. she is employed with St. Anthony Hospital in Pendleton.

The groom graduated from Pendleton High School in 1986 and graduated from Blue Mountain Community College in 1988. He is employed with the City of Pendleton.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California and the Oregon Coast, the couple are at home in Pendleton.

Advanced Speakeasy slated Feb. 26

"There is more to public speaking than saying some words in front of a group," says Cindy Osterlund Extension agent for Gilliam County.

The Advanced Speakeasy, scheduled at the Condon High School, Saturday Feb. 26, will provide experience in putting presence and pizzazz into speaking presentations.

This field day is filled with practice activities that will help participants.

Attendees will learn how to put expression and emotion in to their speaking voice, project their voice to the back row, select the best colors for their visuals, use overheads as a visual aid, be aware of what their body is do-

Local steelheaders group formed

The first meeting of the year of the John Day River Chapter of the Association of Northwest Steelheaders was held Jan. 25 at the Elks lodge in Heppner.

Wayne Hams, lone, was elected as president for the coming year. Other officers are: Craig Gutierrez, vice president and Dale Conklin, secretary-treasurer, both of Heppner.

There were 19 people in attendance with 12 new members signing up to be a part of the chapter.

Guest speakers for the evening were state representative Chuck Norris and assistant district biologist ODFW Mike Gray of John Day.

Mike Gray brought the group up to date on the fisheries situation on the John Day River. Salmon, steelhead, bull trout and bass were discussed.

After an informal question and answer period the group set three goals for the next several months. The group decided to expand the membership and chapter by personal contact with others and by holding future meetings in other cities in the area such as Condon, Fossil or Spray.

The group also set up an executive board consisting of five people. The group hopes to have board members from different areas. They will be involved in directing the group in future projects. Until the committee is formed the chapter is looking for a project to get members involved with in the near future.

Before the meeting was adjourned door prizes donated to the chapter by local businesses and individuals were drawn and given out.

The next meeting will be in lone at the Legion Hall. Guest speaker will be Jerry Anderson with the Morrow Soil and Water Conservation District.

Gun club announce winners

Jeff and Curtis Cutsforth each shot perfect scores of 25 from the 16 yard line Sunday Feb. 6. Second place went to Loren Woodside and Ron Haguewood.

The handicap winner was Brian Thompson who shot 24 of 25. Sherron Woodside was second with 23.

Annie Oakley winners were Jeff Cutsforth, Mike Adams and Pat Lovgren.

Despite the wind and the rain last Sunday, Feb. 13, Jack Henges managed to break a perfect 25 at the 16 yard line at the Morrow County Gun Club shoot held in Lexington. Loren Woodside broke 23 out of 25 targets to take second place.

The handicap event was led by Sherron Woodside with a score of 20. Mike Gorman, Kelwayne Haguewood and Tim Hedman tied for second place with 19 targets broken.

The club will open at noon on Sunday, Feb. 20.

Knowledge Master teams picked

Heppner Elementary and Middle Schools are again participating in the Knowledge Master Open, a computer-based competition which tests the students' basic knowledge and ability to apply that knowledge. The competition requires the students to work together to solve problems, reinforcing the necessity to communicate and trust one another. Adults may not be involved in any way in the problem solving process.

The first junior high contest was held in December with the team of Jonas Healy, Brooke Boyer, Amy Burkenbine, Sarah Greif and Ian Sweek placing 18 of 25 Oregon teams in the competition. Their score of 1042 was the fifth best for this age group for the 200 question round, which often takes more than three hours. The school record of 1244 is held by last years spring team of Jonas Healy, Brian Koffler and Shannon Benjamin. The next competition for the seventh and eighth graders will be in mid-April with a team of eighth graders Jayme Hansen, Jonas Healy and Josie Proctor and seventh graders Brooke Boyer, Amy Burkenbine and Sarah Greif.

The first elementary school competition was held in January with a team of sixth graders Trisha Adams, Leah Denton, Ben Goodyear, Casey Ingraham, Matt Jepsen, Corey Miller, Amy Papineau, Eric Rollis, Ashley Ropp and Matt VanLiew. This team's score of 619 set a new school record for this division and placed the group sixth among nine teams in Oregon comprised only of sixth graders. The next competition will be held during the week of March 14-18 with a team made up of fifth graders. This team will include Krista Adams, Amber Flaiz, Bradon Kanyid, Blake Knowles, Marissa McCabe, A.J. Perez, Craig Scott, Tai Sweek and Lindsey Ward. The elementary contest presents 100 challenging questions.

Linda Shaw, reading specialist and TAG coordinator at the school supervises the competition.

Parents and leaders are also invited to participate.

Registration will begin at 9:15 a.m. Activities start at 9:30 a.m. and will conclude at 2:20 p.m. Those attending should bring a sack lunch.

Parents and leaders are also invited to participate.
