Public Health director Laura Burnside-McElligott talks with two-year-old Michael Raible and his mother, Michelle, during a special immunization clinic held Saturday, May 14, at Heppner.

A free clinic was held May 14 in Heppner and Boardman as part of a state-wide drive to immunize pre-schoolers, "Immunize Now".

Laura Burnside-McElligott said that around 14 children, one teenager and six adults were immunized during the county-wide drive, with the number of children immunized in north and south county "pretty equal". More adults were immunized at the Boardman clinic, she said.

My Two Cents Worth

By Louis Carlson, Morrow County Judge

It's that time of the year when wheat farmers are pulling rye from their fields, hay farmers are wishing their windrows of hay would dry out and high school seniors are wanting to see if their diplomas are signed.

Graduation is just around the corner. Mark these days on your calendar so that you won't forget. Lone High graduates Friday, June 3 at 8 p.m.; Riverside graduates Sunday, June 5 at 1 p.m. and Heppner High graduates Sunday, June 5 at 3 p.m.

Speaking of graduation, the Carl Troedson scholarship selection committee has been hard at work reviewing all of the high school senior applications. Thirty-three applications were received and reviewed by the selection committee. That committee is composed of the Morrow County School Superintendent, pastor of the Lutheran church and the Morrow County judge. Scholarships from the Carl Troedson Trust fund are given each year to worthy students who apply. The number of scholarships and the amount of each scholarship is based upon the interest earnings of the trust fund.

Carol Bennett has advised me that all wheels are turning and on track for the formation of a county-wide extension district. At the present time all cities in Morrow county are supporting the district and all of the requirements of forming a district are being met. The first hearing has been held, official publications have been posted and the impact statement has been completed by the Morrow County planner, Deane Seeger. The next public hearing is set for Wednesday, June 8, at 2 p.m. at the regular county court session at Irrigon County Annex.

Chuck Starr, superintendent of Morrow County Schools shared with me a "Youth Risk Behavior Survey" that is being conducted by our local Commission on Children and Families. The survey asks questions about alcohol and other drug use, tobacco use, safety practices, violence and sexual activity. These are extremely sensitive issues and of course participation in the survey is voluntary in nature. It will be anonymous so students who take the survey will not be personally identified. The results will be used to identify areas of educational need in the prevention of substance abuse, accidents, violence, disease and teenage pregnancy.

Greg Sweek, assessor and Cyde Estes, lead appraiser for Morrow County, recently attended a five-day management seminar at Linn-Benton Community College. The course included administrative topics such as Oregon laws and administrative rules, public relations, budgeting and project management. The course emphasized the maximization of production through good administration and personnel management.

Andrea Denton, Morrow County personnel director, also recently attended two seminars of continuing education. The first was a one-day seminar in Bend entitled "Employer Rights and Responsibilities". Topics discussed were wage and hour laws, civil rights laws, Federal Family Medical Leave Act, and injured worker and disability laws. The second seminar held in Beaverton was on Worker's Compensation. Both seminars were sponsored by the Bureau of Labor and Industries, Technical Assistance for Employers program.
