Babysitter course offered

Laura McElligott gives lecture during babysitting class

Do you or someone you know ever wish you had a trained, reliable baby sitter? A good way to resolve this might be to sponsor a youth or encourage your own child to participate in a baby sitter training course, says Carol Michael Bennet, Morrow County Extension agent.

A babysitter training course, open to youth 11 years or older, will be held June 20 and 21 at the Heppner Middle School. The training will take place from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the home ec room. Registration is on a first-come, first-serve basis. There is a registration fee of $4 to cover class materials. All participants need to bring a three-ring binder and their own sack lunch each day.

Topics covered at the training will include: what is expected while babysitting; how to conduct a business; how to handle emergencies; how to stay in control in a variety of situations; the needs of children at different age levels; simple meals and snacks

Lifeguard training class scheduled

An American Red Cross Lifeguard Training course will be held at the Ione Swimming Pool starting June 9. The course is suggested for those interested in becoming a trained lifeguard or for those who need to update their lifeguard certification and skills.

Participants who are certified through this course will be eligible for lifeguarding in non-surf aquatic environments. This course will cover such topics as preventive lifeguarding, non-swimming assists, water emergencies, approach strokes, swimming assists, carries and lifts, surface dives, search and rescue, pool safety and maintenance. Successful participants will possess a valuable certificate for employment purposes.

Participants must be at least 15 years old prior to taking or before graduating from the lifeguard training course, have a current ARC First Aid and Adult CPR certificate and be in good physical condition and have good swimming skills.

The course will be taught in nine three-hour sessions. The first session will be held from 5-8 p.m. Thursday, June 9. The following sessions will be given through June 14. The course is offered through Blue Mountain Community College. Anyone interested in taking the course should call BMCC coordinator Anne Morter 422-7040 or the instructor Sarah Carlson, 422-7245. Tuition for the course is $55 plus a $10 lab fee for the purchase of the required books.
