Summer project a job well done

To the Editor:
It was just 'good to the last drop' from the "Kids Works" program at the Christian Life Center on July 5, through "Puppet Workshop", to fantastic trips to lone for lone Grand Squares and to a variety of field trip excursions with U.S. Forest service; to time spent enjoying the life and times of the Irish people; a side trip to Lehman Hot Springs; to a mock trial of the big bad wolf and the three little pigs to a supercalifragilisticexpialidocious finish with a tour of Bob Jepsen's wheat ranch, a trip through beautiful downtown lone and a big splash in the lone city pool. And it all was made possible by many fine people of south Morrow County who gave of their time and energy and enthusiasm and gifts to make the 1994 Neighborhood Center Summer Youth Project a huge success. I don't know all the people, teachers, preachers, junior high leaders, adults, friends, relatives and the kids that made it a great summer experience. I wish I could name all of those who helped but I only know a few and if you know any of these super fine people who did help in any way, take the time to thank them for a job well done.

Sincerely,
(s) Rev. Stan Hoobing
Treasurer Neighborhood Summer Project

Rodeo court have busy summer

The Morrow County Fair and Oregon Trail Pro Rodeo Court recently traveled to The Dalles for the Ft. Dalles Parade and Rodeo. Between the parade and the evening rodeo, the court was entertained at a barbecue at the home of Earl and Dolores Ayres. This past weekend the group traveled to the Wallows to participate in the Chief Joseph Days activities. Queen Staci O'Brien, and Princesses Kimberly Bedortha, Char Coe and Jossie Evans brought home a second place ribbon and $15 in the royalty competition. There were nearly 25 courts participating in the parade. Following the afternoon grand entry the court and their families had a barbecue at Wallowa Lake and challenged their dads at go-carts and miniature golf. This week the court will take part in the Hermiston Starlight Parade on Saturday, August 6 and will help at the 4-H Horse Show on Sunday, August 7th.

HCC works on strategic plan

The Heppner Coordinating Council continued work on updating the Heppner Strategic Plan at a special meeting held Aug. 2.

The council discussed specific action plans designed to implement the goal which was to "expand the visitor industry within community guidelines." The discussion was led by council member Ann Spicer.

The council is nearing completion of the draft update of the community strategic plan and will start reviewing it with community organizations to gain their comments and suggestions in the near future.

The next regular meeting of the Heppner Coordinating Council will be held on Tuesday, August 9, at the GEODC office at 7:30 a.m. Topics to be discussed will be the Morrow County home rule charter and regional economic strategies applications. The public is welcome to attend all meetings of the council.

Alcohol prevention begins at home

"This is the time of year when the evenings are hot and youth are looking for some fun time activities," says Stan Hoobing, convenor for the Heppner/Lexington Oregon Together Group., The Heppner Oregon Together project reminds parents and guardians that one of the 'fun things' on some youths' minds is drinking alcohol.

"Regardless of community based programs, the prevention of alcohol and other drug problems is also influenced deeply by what happens in the home," says Hoobing.

The project joins the National Parent Teacher Association in urging parents and legal guardians to work to establish an alcohol and drug free atmosphere in the home.

The following suggestions have proven the most helpful according to Hoobing: ban alcohol and other drugs at parties held in their home; prohibit parties when adults are not present; set a time when children are expected to be home; know the parents of your children's friends; know who your children are going out with; have children agree to call for a ride any time they are in a situation in which the driver they are with, teenager or adult, may be impaired.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, chamber manager

Turn the calendar to August and everyone seems to be grasping for more time and more volunteers. Heppner buzzes with activity this month as volunteers dig ditches at the RV parks; work on the rodeo grounds, prepare for the parade, fair and rodeo; and put in extra time perking up Main Street in preparation for August visitors. The flowers in the planters are beautiful thanks to the Garden Club and to those people quietly packing water to them, such as Rita Sumner. Shows community pride.

Heppner Chamber will have their annual summer tour Tuesday, Aug. 9. Meet in front of the Elks at 11:45 a.m. The tour will include the 911 site; RV site; Emergency Management Shelter for lunch in a cool environment; the precip station and an optional tour of the dam. If you plan to attend, call the Chamber office 676-5536 for transportation and sack lunch. Vans will be provided.

Mark your calendars to attend the Public Utilities Commission Hearing, Thursday, Aug. 4, 7 p.m. at St. Patrick's Senior Center dining room. PTI Communications will be replacing U.S. West. Scott Sawyer of PTI will be available to address concerns related to our change in telephone service.

Fair and rodeo week chamber members will be meeting on Thursday, Aug. 18 for lunch at the fairgrounds. Therefore, there will be no regular Tuesday meeting. Tuesday, Aug. 23, Chuck Starr will be chamber speaker. That's the time to find out everything you ever wanted to know about the school bond issue coming before the voters in September.

Thought for the week: "You can't change the past, but you can ruin a perfectly good present by worrying about the future."
