

Lexington to host bicyclists

Lexington Holly Rebekah Lodge will host 225 people who are participating in the eighth annual Oregon Bicycle Ride Aug. 13 and 14.

Starting in Pendleton the group will make one of their overnight stops in Lexington next Sunday on their way to Astoria. Their route over back roads takes them via Condon and Moro.

A Sunday evening musical concert is planned to entertain these guests who will encamp on the ball field near the Lexington district office. Tiffany Lloyd, Boardman, will be one of the entertainers.

While the bicyclists' evening meal is catered, Holly Rebekah Lodge is planning to serve bikers their breakfast starting at 6 a.m. Monday. Proceeds from the breakfast will be used to update the wiring in the Odd Fellow Lodge building that now sports a new roof.

Time to register for pre-school

It's time to register children for Heppner Day Care Pre-school. Children must be three or four years old by Aug. 31.

Registration forms may be picked up at the Day Care during regular business hours. Registration fees are $10 for four year-olds and $5 for three year-olds.

Teachers Sue Norton and LaRae Kindle will be returning again this year. Classes will be held upstairs in the Heppner Elks club.

Four year-olds meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:30-11:30 a.m. Three year-olds will meet on Wednesdays from 8:30-11:30 a.m.

Tuition is $50 per month for four year-olds and $25 per month for three year-olds. Scholarships are available and applications may be picked up at the Day Care. Classes are limited, so parents are urged to register early. Classes will start Sept. 6 for four year-olds and Sept. 7 for three year-olds. Call 676-5429 for more information.

EMT Assoc. receives funding

The EMT Morrow County Ambulance Association has been awarded $1000 to provide continuing education for EMTs in Morrow County.

Funding was provided by Northeast Oregon Area Health Education Center (NEOAHEC), a non-profit organization dedicated to attracting and retaining health care professionals by providing regional educational opportunities.

NEOAHEC is governed by a 20-member board of directors representing the 10 counties it serves. Morrow County is represented by Larry Mills of Lexington.

EMT Morrow County Ambulance Association plans to use the funds to help bring the "Farmdeic Northwest Training Program" to Morrow County. The Farmdeic program is designed to improve the ability of EMTs to handle agricultural related traumas.

According to Carl Lauritsen, Morrow County EMS coordinator, the goals of the training are to: reduce the rate of injury and death from farm accidents; reduce the possibility of injury and death to rescue personnel; and enhance awareness and cooperation between the agricultural and fire/rescue/EMS communities.

EMT Morrow County Ambulance was also a grant recipient in 1993. With that funding they taught a pediatric prehospital care course to 22 volunteer EMTs, two MDs, two PAs, and eight RNs.

OSU offers stain removal tips

In the unlikely event you get skunk oil on your shoes, bury them in fine, dry soil such as kitty litter or sweeping compound for several days, says a press release from the Morrow County Extension office. The fine particles will absorb the odor.

That's just one of the helpful tips found in the "New Stain Removal Guide for Washable Fabrics" now available from the OSU Extension Service, reports Ardis Koester, Extension textiles and clothing specialist.

The six major sections of the publication cover protein stains and red inks and dyes; fruit beverage, and other liquid stains; greasy, nonfood stains; greasy food stains; special problem stains; and unknown stains. There is also an alphabetical index to stains.

The procedures listed in the booklet are appropriate for removing stains from washable fabric, emphasizes Koester. If instructions state that the garment is to be washed, don't assume that dry-cleaning is also safe. Consumers should check care labels for recommended laundering procedures and follow those instructions after removing the stain.

"Stain Removal Guide for Washable Fabrics" PNW 440, is available for $1.50 from Publications Orders, Agricultural Communications, OSU, Administrative Services A422, Corvallis 97331-2119. It is also available from the Morrow County Extension Office, P.O. Box 397, Heppner, 676-9642.
