A tour of the new senior housing facility was not possible but the group was shown one of the duplex units and were invited to the open house Oct. 23. They visited the museum, which is expanding with many new additions. Ed brought them back via Valby Lutheran Church, Lone and Lexington. It was surprising that in spite of the drought there was so much wheat up and growing.

The bus trip to Umatilla for the AAA meeting was cancelled due to not enough people signing up. Those attending went by car.

Chamber Chatter

By Claudia Hughes, Chamber Manager

Do the 18 ballot measures tend to overwhelm you as well as all of the mixed messages that go along with them? Heppner Chamber is here to help. The next two consecutive chamber meetings have been set aside to review and discuss the measures. Each measure will be presented followed by pros, cons, and discussion from the floor. It is imperative that we be aware of the consequences of a number of these measures and be knowledgeable before we cast our ballots. The November 1994 ballot measures include two legislative referrals and 16 initiatives. Interested persons are invited to join us at noon at the Elks on Tuesday, Oct. 11 and Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Morrow County's Heritage Celebration this past weekend gave us a glimpse of some of the many offerings we have in this area for visitors. The native Americans from the Columbia River area had much to share and gave those present great insight into what is most valuable in life. They gave us a glimpse into the past as an elder spoke in the native tongue while an interpreter shared her knowledge. Mary Keith of the Forest Service and the Morrow County Museum are to be commended for an interesting event. Joe Yocom, Cork Norene and Mary did an excellent job conducting the historic tour in the Schooner Wagon. Maybe this can become an annual event.

John Edmundson and Jim Wishart gave the annual coat of varathane to the Heppner welcome signs before the entourage of hunters arrived.
