Garden Club workshop successful

The Heppner Garden Club credits the "great community that contributed generously to another successful Christmas greens workshop at the Artifacts factory this year".

According to a Garden Club spokesperson, the community support of the greens program enables the club to return the "favor" in street beautification, scholarships, donations to day care, the Neighborhood Center, the senior center and swimming pool, among others. Anyone needing some of the leftover greens may pick them up at the Wilbur Jackson home on Chase St. The greens will be in the trailer parked on the lower level.

St. Patrick's Senior Center Bulletin Board

One hundred twenty-four people signed in for the senior birthday dinner Nov. 30, including a bus load from Irrigon and representatives from CAPECO and the county court. Velma Wight won the meal ticket and Joe Engleman the birthday gift. Members of the Catholic church served. A meeting was held following the meal to discuss the rules and regulations concerning the meal site.

The menu for the Christmas dinner Dec. 14 will be ham with pineapple, potatoes, green beans, rolls and pudding. Members of the Baptist church will serve. Lynn Bibby and Eleanor Gonty are the hostesses for December. The senior board meeting will follow the dinner.

Due to a scheduling mix up the American Legion Auxiliary and the Housing Authority board both met at the senior center Monday evening, Nov. 28. One group met in the office and the other group met in the sitting room.

Eleven seniors watched the movie "Danny" on Sunday night, Dec. 4.

Ralph Walker brought in a beautiful Christmas tree for the center. He does this each year and it is much appreciated.
