Jossie Evans blocks shot against Weston-McEwen

The Heppner Fillies had one of the coldest nights in the season as nothing would fall through the hoop for them last Friday night, Feb. 10 at Athena. The 39-68 loss kept the Fillies in a tie for second place in the Columbia Basin Conference league.

The Fillies had a total of 10 points going into the locker room scoring only two points in the second quarter, to the TigerScots 35. Elizabeth Hansell had 19 of her game high 23 points in the first half.

Artist in residence visits lone schools

Lone Schools was host to Linda Peterson of LaGrande for two weeks recently. Peterson is a watercolor artist and taught painting at the school through the Artists In Education program. This program is supported by the National Endowments for the Arts as well as the Oregon Arts Council and Eastern Oregon State College. Students in grades K through 6 and those enrolled in high school art received daily instruction in watercolor painting. Lessons included instruction techniques using line, color, resist, wash, graded flat and value. Each student produced several works of art during the classes.

An open-house exhibit was held on the final day for the family and community. Students displayed their work as artists do in a gallery showing, complete with title and price. A number of students sold paintings they had on display.

A large group of community and family members visited the display and many positive comments were heard, said teacher Betty Rietmann.

"Students at all grade levels found the enjoyment they voiced learning painting techniques and in displaying their work for the community," she added.

Child care training

Umatilla-Morrow County Child Care Resource & Referral will be providing Child Care Basics I, Health & Safety training, in Heppner on Thursday, March 2, from 6-10 p.m. at the Pettyjohn building. Free child care will be provided for the children of those attending the training. Those who need child care are asked to let Child Care Resource and Referral know at least three days in advance.

The training is free of charge and is appropriate for anyone providing child care in their home or at a center. It will also meet the continuing education requirement for licensed center employees.

Pre-registration is required. Those interested should contact Susan or Sheila at 278-0770 or 1-800-559-5878 at Child Care Resource & Referral.

Lexington Grange installs officers

By Delpha Jones

Lexington Grange held their regular meeting Monday evening with master Clarence Buchanan presiding. Fred Ernst was welcomed as a new member. The committee chairmen gave their reports. Legislative chairman Barton Clark spoke on activities of the National Grange at the National session. GWA chairman Virginia Peck asked that the ladies of the grange set a meeting date that the group might go in 1995. Kathy Clark is the secretary treasurer for the group.

Guests for the evening were Myra Gayman and Doris Ried of Columbia Grange. They invited members needing the Fourth Degree to attend their grange Feb. 21.

The 1995 budget was read and approved. The budget committee consisted of Barton

Clark, Kenneth Smouse, Clarence Buchanan, Jean Nelson secretary and Cecil Jones, treasurer.

Dot Halvorsen, Doris Ried and Kenneth Smouse assisted the county deputy in the installation of the 1995 officers. Those installed were: Barton Clark, overseer, Cecil Jones treasurer, Jean Nelson lecturer, Delpha Jones secretary, Ned Clark gatekeeper, Dorothy Wilson flora and Lyle Peck and Kathy Clark executive members.

The next meeting will be February 20. Twenty-five to 50 year memberships will be honored. Ben Boswell state grange overseer will do the honors and also speak on grange issues.

Kenneth Smouse showed pictures of some of the trips taken by the Morrow County Historical Society.

Garden club donates to groups

Valentine's Day arrangements, made by members of the Heppner Garden Club, were on display at their February meeting at the St. Pat's Senior Center.

The club voted to present a $100 check to each of four non-profit community organizations: Heppner Day Care, EMT's, Neighborhood Center and the Senior Center Trust Fund; and $50 to assist with the Vietnam veterans event.

The group also began planning for the annual Blue Mountain District annual/spring meeting which they will be hosting April 28 in the parish hall of St. Patrick Church. They chose "Hats off to District 10" as theme for the day and members volunteered for a slate of committees. Chairmen will include Bebe Munkers, Cathy Dowrey, Eleanor Gonty, Ida Farra, Verna Brinda and Eva Griffith.

Jane Rawlins, leader for the program on table settings, presented designs of both functional and exhibition types for different seasons. A traditional rule for table setting is to allow at least 24 inches from center to center of place settings. Centerpieces should occupy about one-third the length of the table and should be no higher than the distance from the elbow to the fingertips, said Rawlins.

Valentine dessert was served by Dowrey and Betsy Kaiser. The program for the March 6 meeting will be "How to Design a Flower Bed."

Cub Scout Pack holds meeting BMCC announces classes scheduled

Pack No. 661 held its monthly meeting on Jan. 31. The Tiger Cubs presented the colors and led the flag salute. The Tiger Cubs told at their den meeting of the demonstration they were given on C.R.P. They even practiced on dummies.

The Bears showed some items they made from wood. The boys told how they cut them out and put them together and the different tools that were used. The boxes are used for tools, fishing gear or camping gear.

The Webelos I & II showed some items they have been working on, such as napkin holders, recipe book holders and some communication circuit boards used to send morse code.

Aaron Griffith received his Wolf badge and a gold Arrow point for his achievements.

The meeting was adjourned and a planning meeting was set to discuss the Blue and Gold Banquet. This banquet is held in celebration of the anniversary of the beginning of Cub Scouts. The boys and their parents make a cake to auction, which is the fund raiser for Cub Scouts. The money is used to send the boys to camp and get their awards.

Blue Mountain Community College will once again offer golf classes beginning in early March. Classes will be held at the Willow Creek Country Club in Heppner. John Edmundson will be the instructor.

Beginning golf will be held on Thursday evenings from 5-6:30 p.m. for six weeks beginning March 9. The class is intended for people with little or no prior golfing experience. The course covers the basics of the rules, play and etiquette of the game. The skills of putting, chipping, pitching, approaching, fairway shots and teeing-off will also be taught.

Intermediate golf will be offered for the golfer with some prior experience. The class will be held Thursdays from 10 a.m.

Deadline approaching for UN contest

The deadline for the United Nations Pilgrimage contest, sponsored by the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows, is rapidly approaching. Essays on the theme "How much involvement should the United Nations have in the internal affairs of the country?" should be sent into the clubs' secretary by March 6.

High school sophomores and juniors should contact their high school counselors concerning the contest, which provides a three week cross-country trip to the United Nations.
