We are still in need of volunteers to assist in various activities such as bingo, etc. If you feel that you could volunteer in any of the following areas, please call Tonya Jones at 676-9133 or leave your name and number at Pioneer

Memorial Clinic, 676-5504.

A partial list of needs include: helping with games-Bingo, Monday at 2 p.m., Yahtzee, Thursday at 6:30 p.m., Dominoes, Wednesday at 2 p.m.; helping with crafts, daily, at 1:30 p.m.; reading the Heppner Gazette-Times, Friday at 2 p.m.; polishing nails any day or Wednesday at 10 a.m.; and June through September, helping residents take a walk outside, sitting with residents on the patio or in the yard, reading to residents out-of-doors and helping with outings and picnics.

Your help will be greatly appreciated and we hope a rewarding experience for you.

Sincerely,

Eye Allergy Medicine Approved

According to a recent report in Pharmacist's Letter, a new prescription medicine has been approved for eye allergies. The approved medicine is cromolyn. The brand name for this medicine is Crolom. It is made by Bausch & Lomb.

According to the report, this is good news for physicians who previously had treated eye allergies with another cromolyn product that eventually was taken off the market. Crolom is approved for a severe type of allergy that is referred to as vernal keratoconjunctivitis. The report indicated that cromolyn probably also will be used by certain eye specialists for prevention of itchy, watery eyes, a common condition with eye allergies.

Cromolyn sodium stabilizes mast cells in the body, thereby preventing release of histamine and other substances that cause watery eyes, sneezing, and other allergy symptoms. This compound usually is less effective after an allergic response is already under way. Cromolyn is, therefore, used to prevent allergies. Prescription products on the market containing cromolyn include a nasal spray for seasonal allergic rhinitis and several products (a powder inside a capsule, an aerosol, and a solution) for oral inhalation in persons with asthma.
