

Parents anonymous to meet

Parents Anonymous is coming to Morrow County. Everyone in the community is invited to attend a Parents Anonymous training session Oct. 13 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Morrow County Extension Office, 430 Linden Way, Heppner; or a board meeting planned Friday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Public Health Department office, 101 N.W. Boardman Ave., Boardman.

Marilyn Bader-Nesse, Prevention/Early Intervention (PEI) chair, Morrow County Mental Health, says that the PEI Board is actively involved in establishing parent support groups in Heppner and Boardman.

"This will be a community program," said Bader-Nesse. "If we are to continue to feel safe when we take walks at night or keep the home security systems to a minimal (just ask anyone living in the inner city areas what it costs them to feel safe), then it's time to get actively involved in supporting all parents in helping to raise safe and healthy children. Parents Anonymous is this kind of program."

"This is a parents' support group for all parents," continued Bader-Nesse, "even grandparents who are responsible on a regular basis for their grandchildren."

The group is also taking names of those interested in babysitting during the Parents Anonymous group sessions to be held on Thursday nights. "Please call 676-9161 or 481-2911 and let us know how you would like to become involved in this program," added Bader-Nesse.

Christian Church Youth Group". They will be picked up after 2 p.m. or they may be dropped off at the church at 293 N. Gale between 2-6 p.m. "Your help would be much appreciated and it would help the young people to defer the costs of events," said a church spokesperson.
