

BMCC plans local spring term classes

Spring term classes for Blue Mountain Community College (BMCC) will get underway in early April in the south Morrow County area. Students needing more information or those who wish to reserve a spot in a particular class should contact Anne Morter, Morrow County coordinator, 422-7040.

Starting and Sustaining a Home Business is a two-week seminar class scheduled for Wednesday, April 10 and 24 from 7-9 p.m. at the Morrow County School District office in Lexington. The first session will feature a local home business-woman, Anne Beard, who will share her version of the trials and tribulations of running a business from home. The second session will feature a representative from BMCC's Development Center who will provide information on some of the technical "getting started" aspects of any home business. Tuition is $20 per person.

An array of computer classes are offered including Multimedia and the Mac, Extending the Use of the Macintosh, Introduction to Windows, Beginning Computer, Working with Microsoft Works, and Surfing the Internet. Classes vary in length and cost. Call Morter for more information.

Handgun Proficiency will use a different format this term, being held on consecutive Saturdays for two weeks. Successful completion of the class, which stresses safety, will satisfy proficiency requirements for a concealed weapons permit. The cost of the class does not, however, cover the cost of the actual permit. The class is slated for April 20 and 27 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. at the school district office in Lexington and a firing session will be held on the second Saturday. Cost is $30 tuition plus a $5 lab fee. Preregistration is required.

Two employment skills workshops will be offered on Wednesday, April 10, taught by Sue Neiderwerfer of Pendleton. The morning session, Managing Conflict, is designed to help people resolve conflict both on and off the job. The afternoon session will be Fabulous Customer Service, which will cover many aspects of providing good customer relations.

IUCC celebrates 100th birthday

The Ione United Church of Christ (IUCC) church school celebrated the commemoration of the 100th anniversary of its founding on March 17 with a worship service conducted completely by classes from the young people.

The introit and a special number, "I Wish I Could Sing as the Angels Can" were sung by the Youth Choir. Others taking part were Nathan Rietmann, Katie Garrett, Kelly Morgan, Dawn Sheirbon, the preschool through second grade band, Jessica Krebs, a lesson by the Junior High, Steve Allen, a lesson by Leila Gribscov, 3rd-5th grade classes, Jon Garrett, and Maci Childers with Offertory on the flute by Stefani Lemieux. This was followed by a baked goods sale in the basement with the profit being made as a gift to Camp Adams.

Palm Sunday was marked at the IUCC with a procession from the educational building to the church building, where greeters with palms were waiting at the entrance. Leading the procession was Emily Rietmann, portraying Jesus, riding on a donkey led by Dana Heideman, with all the other children following with palms waving. Teachers for these events were Betty Gray, Lela Gribscov, Nova Rietmann and the Reverend Lea Mathieu.

Wheatland District conference held

By Delph Jones

The Wheatland District GWA conference was held Friday at the Greenfield Grange Hall with the district chairman presiding.

The group learned about the plans for the coming year for the GWA, such as contests and various other points of interest.

Those attending were Dot Halvorsen, Helen Crawford, Margaret Akers and June Crowell of Willows, Virginia Peck, Jean Nelson and Joyce Buchanan, and Aloha Medlock and Bobbi Jo Medlock, Spray.

The first four degrees of the Grange were given at the Lexington Grange hall with members from Greenfield, Willows and Lexington taking part. Dot Halvorsen of Ione acted as installed master for the day.

The meeting started at 1 p.m. with the following officers taking part: Ned Clark, overseer; Jean Nelson, lecturer; Willard French, gatekeeper; Clarence Buchanan, steward; Eulenna Vaughn, chaplain; Cecil Jones, treasurer; Delpha Jones, secretary; Kathy Clark, Ceres; Bobbie Peck, Pomona; Nyna Knighten, Flora; Barbara Gilbert, LAS; Carl Martin, AS, and Margaret Thorpe, musician.

Following the first two degrees, a potluck dinner was enjoyed, after which the other two degrees were given. The candidate for the day was Connie Dutton, Greenfield Grange.

Lexington News

By Delpha Jones

Max and Betty Breeding, and sons, Don and Dale, and two grandchildren of Gresham were Heppner and Lexington callers on Sunday to help Lydia Wilson celebrate her birthday. Daughter Lolah Wilson from the Portland area also helped celebrate.

Cecil and Delpha Jones

were recent visitors at the George Irvin home in Irrigon where they visited with the Irvin's son, Bill, and children from Twin Falls, Idaho. The twins, Julia and Jessica, remained for a two week visit with their grandparents.

Faye Ruhl is currently a resident at Pioneer Memorial Hospital.

Commission plans meeting April 9

ARE YOU CONCERNED ABOUT THE EDUCATION OF THE CHILDREN OF MORROW CO.?

1. Do we need to spend $176,000 to hire additional administrators?
2. Should we use this $176,000 to hire additional teachers?

★ We saved $150,000 a year by going to a four day week.

★ They now want to spend $176,000 to hire more administrators.

★ Do you want to use this money to go back to the five day week and hire additional teachers in the classroom?
