Twins celebrate 90th birthday

A ninetieth birthday celebration for twins Bertha Moore Street and Callie Moore Huddleston, was hosted for family members by Tom and Garnett Huddleston and family, of Heppner; and Ken and Billie Jean Waud and family, of Ephrata, Washington, at the Heppner St. Patrick's Senior Center on Aug. 4.

A noon luncheon buffet was served to over 100 relatives, coming from as far as Amherst, New Hampshire, as well as various locations in Oregon, Washington and California.

Special guests were two sisters-in-law, Clarice Moore, widow of Clarence Moore, from Canby, and Rachel Moore, widow of Ralph Moore, from Hermiston.

Highlights of the afternoon program were the "Happy Birthday Grandma's" song and presentation of flowers by Tom Huddleston's grandchildren, directed by Patty Braun and Molly Pahlen. This was followed by Darcy Debok, "Miss Portland 1996," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Debok of Tigard, dancing Scottish Highland dances, including an Irish jig. Darcy is an award-winning Scottish dancer.

A "Moore Family History and Memories" were related by Billie Jean Waud, beginning with the five Moore families who came on the Mayflower as researched by retired Army Colonel Howard Moore, Fort Worth, Texas.

James Emmett Moore and May Ryder Moore came with their infant son, Clarence, to the Lonerock valley in 1904 to a homestead from Galax, Virginia. Emmett Moore had come earlier and worked for various sheepmen, including Paul Hisler, Sr., of Heppner. He saw opportunity in the availability of land and returned to Virginia to marry and bring his young bride and son to Heppner via train, then buggy to their new home.

Two years later, the twins, Callie and Bertha, were born in Lonerock. They were delivered by midwife Aunt Lucy Robinson. The twins grew up in the Lonerock area, attending the school there, which had grades 1-12.

When they were 13 years old, the twins wrote letters to their friends, mailing them at the Lonerock post office, neglecting to stamp them. An aunt, Myrtle Huddleston, deposited them in a crevice in a partition in the post office, where they were found recently by Jack and LaVelle Stephens when they purchased and remodeled the old store and post office. Some of the letters written in 1919 by the twins and brother, Harvey, were addressed to Zella Madden Pringle, a classmate and Moore family friend. Two of the letters were shared with the audience.

Callie Huddleston moved from Hermiston to Heppner's senior center three years ago to be near her son and family.

Bertha and her husband, Rollie Street, moved from Walla Walla to Redding, California, in 1979 to be near family. Bertha has twin granddaughters, Barbara Winkle and Belinda Pritchett of Redding, who attended the event with their families.

Bertha and Callie look forward to their annual trip to Lonerock on Memorial Day to decorate the family graves and renew ties with friends, neighbors and relatives, said a family spokesperson.
