

Heppner Bowling Alley back in business

Bowlers try out the newly opened lanes.

Patty Rystedt is ready to serve lunch and dinner.

The Heppner bowling alley is back in operation after being purchased by a non-profit group in Heppner. The group, which bought the bowling alley from Doug Smith, will operate the lanes similar to the local golf course.

The group secured loans and membership fees to buy the business and is now selling memberships to operate the lanes.

John Breidenbach will manage the lanes and Patty and Alex Rystedt of the R&W will operate the restaurant. Hours for the lanes are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and restaurant hours are 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. seven days per week.

"We've put in new kickback panels, solid state electronics, painted the gutters and cleaned the whole insides," Breidenbach said.

Breidenbach said the group is now looking for members to join the bowling lanes. Cost is $100 per year for individuals and $200 for families. There are special rates for students, and open bowling is available. Anyone wishing to join may sign up at the bowling alley. Breidenbach said there is a payment plan available also for people who do not wish to pay all at one time.

As a child, you never believed everything you heard...

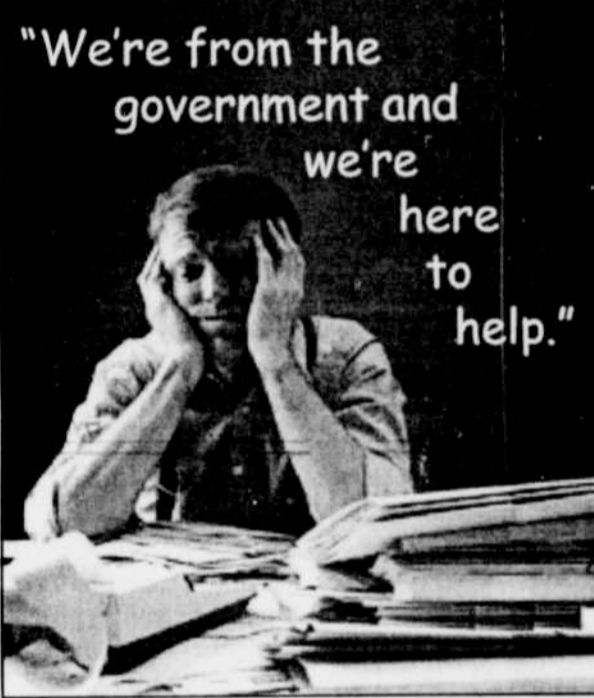

"Now then, this won't hurt a bit!"

"Eat your spinach, you'll love it!"

...so why should you now?

"We're from the government and we're here to help."

Whoa! Stop! Hold your horses! Free Checking? Didn't we all learn as youngsters that if something sounds a little fishy--or maybe even a little too good to be true--it usually is. What they "forgot" to tell you in the headlines is that their rates for services like overdraft protection, stop payments, wire transfers, ATM usage, etc., etc., are just about the highest around. Some "free" account! Well, what did you expect from big out-of-town banks? It's probably a good bet that most of their decision makers couldn't spell Heppner or Condon, let alone find us on a map.

If you're tired of fine print and all the other big-city shenanigans, start a checking or savings program at Bank of Eastern Oregon. You will find that we have been quietly offering the people of Eastern Oregon excellent rates on savings, the lowest charges for most all checking services, and the best in expert, personal service. Now that you can believe!
