By Dawn Boor
The Ione Cardinals had a big win over the Wheeler Falcons on Friday, Sept. 20, beating the Falcons, 40-0.

The Cardinals started off the night with a touchdown by Randy Scott, who also accounted for two more of the lone touchdowns. Joe Bacon, Kelly Morgan and Jake McElligott also contributed to Ione's 40 points, with one touchdown each. Scott had 249 yards rushing, followed by Pete Cantu with 79.

The Cardinals also played a home game on Friday, Sept. 27 against rival Dufur Rangers.

Ponies win two

By Lonnie Rill
The Heppner Ponies are off to the races this year in football. They have started off with a 2-0 record after defeating Athena-Weston last Friday evening. They started their season with a defeat over Yoncalla. They will play Umatilla this coming Friday in what should be a good game.

The team has quite a few players coming back after their seventh grade year. They have plenty of size and will be a big help to the Mustang program when they get into high school.

Heppner Fillies upend Huskies

The Heppner Fillies used all three games to upend the Sherman County Huskies 15-11, 16-18, 15-11 on Tuesday, September 24.

Game one, the Lady Mustangs held on to an early lead behind the strong serving of Annie Hisler, 8/8 and Tracy Dickenson, 3/3. The team serving percentage in the first game was 86 percent, while Sherman County tallied 78 percent.

The tables were turned in game two. Early on the Huskies were able to gain up to a four point advantage. The Fillies pulled even at 8, then surged ahead to lead 14-9. The Huskies battled back in a scoring frenzy to take the second game, 18-16.

Serving stats for game two again had Tracy Dickenson at 100 percent, but the Lady Mustangs as a team showed only 77 percent, while Sherman County had 81 percent.

The Fillies showed what they are made of in the hotly contested third game. The Lady Mustangs, which averaged a full two inches' vertical disadvantage, just plain outplayed the Sherman County girls.

The crowd saw the serve advantage change hands 28 times, with the Huskies successful in a sizzling 92 percent of their serve attempts.

Although Kathleen Greenup (3/3) and Stormy Howard (4/4) were perfect at the service line, the team turned in a dismal 77 percent. Despite their serving woes, the Fillies took the game and the match for their second league victory.

For the third time this season, Heppner's JV's came out the victors over Sherman County, winning in two games, 15-12, 15-5. Serving has become the JV's strong suit as they served a red hot 95 percent in game one, with Kim Pointer and Linsey Ropp getting the momentum rolling.

Heppner started a totally new line-up in game two and didn't have much of a chance to play the ball with sophomore Kathleen Greenup ripping off 11 straight serves to take an 11-0 lead. Pointer finished the match off with points 14 and 15. Heppner controlled the game and finished with a whopping 91 percent service rate by making 38/42 attempts.

C-team did not have an opportunity to play since Sherman County is unable to field a third team.

Police Dept. holds Project KidCare

Elementary school children were weighed, measured and photographed Monday, Sept. 30, as part of the KidCare Photo ID event, sponsored by the Heppner Police Dept., Oregon Association of Police and Oregon Together.

In the event that a child is lost or kidnapped, parents will have current data and a recent photo of their child, said Heppner Police Chief Doug Rathbun.

Rathbun says that parents still wishing to have their child participate in the program may stop by the police office. The service is free.
