HHS homecoming activities underway this week

Heppner High School students are gearing up for homecoming week, to be culminated in volleyball and football games Thursday, Oct. 9, and a dance Friday, Oct. 10.

The activities got underway last Thursday and Friday with hall decorating at the high school. Monday's activities included the noon-time "swamp water challenge", a water carrying contest, and a Tarzan and Jane dress-up contest.

Tuesday the dress-up theme was "bandage day" with a "hunting and gathering" bean shoot contest.

Wednesday was "camo day", with kids dressing up in camouflage outfits, and a banana eating contest. The HHS cheerleaders also planned "Bungle in the Jungle", which includes a bonfire and pep rally Wednesday from 7-8 p.m. at the fairgrounds.

Thursday will feature a tug of war and a Blue and Gold theme. The homecoming parade, through downtown Heppner, will leave the high school at 2:30 p.m. This year the parade route will travel down Main Street, where the students will hold their pep rally at around 2:45 p.m., then turn onto Willow Street and go up Gale Street. This varies the usual route by Coast to Coast

Volleyball games against Wahtonka will include C-team, JVs and varsity and will get underway Thursday at 5 p.m.

A baked potato feed, sponsored by the cheerleaders, will be held on Thursday from 6-8 p.m. at the fairgrounds before the homecoming football game against Stanfield. Prices are as follows: baked potato with chili meal, $4, and baked potato meal, $3. Toppings will be available and all meals include a drink and dessert. The football game begins at 7:30 p.m.

The Friday homecoming dance will be held at the high school from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with music by Dan Burns. A breakfast for students attending the dance will be held at the high school following the dance. Both the music and the breakfast are sponsored by Oregon Together. Joan McDaniel is in charge of cooking the breakfast.

Bellamy purchases pump business from MCGG

Sam Bellamy of Lexington has purchased the domestic and small irrigation pump repair and replacement business from the Morrow County Grain Growers.

Joe Yokum, who has been operating the business for the past 36 years for the Grain Growers, will be helping Bellamy out for awhile then he will be retiring.

Bellamy's office will be located in the old co-op building in Lexington. His phone number is 989-8448, and his home phone is 989-8567. He invites anyone with domestic or small irrigation pump repair or replacement needs to contact him.

Booster Club dinner and auction set for Oct. 18

Ok, all you armchair quarterbacks out there. This is your big chance.

The first four plays (with certain stipulations) of the Mustangs in the Heppner-Pilot Rock home football game planned Friday, October 24, will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at the annual Heppner High School Booster Club steak feed and auction. The dinner and auction will be held on Saturday, Oct. 18, at the Heppner Elks Club.

Greg Grant, HHS football coach and auction chair, says that the auction will provide "fast-paced family fun for everyone."

Grant says that as of Tuesday, the event has 80-plus items to auction off. "We think there's something for everyone," he said. "We have everything from a horse to a pickup to a puppy-fishing trips, airplane flights, buck hunting trips—lots of great items. The community has been fantastic in their generosity of donations."

In addition to the auction, the evening will also include a silent auction and a Ducks Unlimited-style raffle table with over 30 items.

Raffle table tickets may be purchased for $1 each, six for $5, 15 for $10 and 30 for $20.

Anyone purchasing a dinner ticket will be eligible to win a television set, which will be given away as one of the door prizes.

The dinner will be served from 6-8 p.m., with the auction to get underway at 8 p.m. and expected to conclude around 9:30 p.m.

The dinner menu includes steak, potato, salads, beverage and dessert for $7.50 each. Lee Ansotegui and crew will be the cooks.

Around 30 high school students will be helping before, during and after the dinner and auction.

Anyone who would like to donate or assist at the dinner or auction may contact Grant, Booster Club President Sonja McCabe or dinner chairperson Marcia Kemp.

McCabe added that the auction is the main fund raiser for the Booster Club, which supports activities at Heppner Junior/Senior High School. She said that the club recently received a letter and a generous donation from an alumnus who wrote that the sports program at Heppner made a difference in his life. The alumnus said he started school as a poor student but, through his involvement with the track program, was able to raise his grades, get on the honor roll and get through eight years of college. He sent his donation with a note that he wanted to give something back to the program. "When that happens, you know you've made a difference," said McCabe.

Lone festivities scheduled

By Nova Rietmann

Lone High School's homecoming week is October 13-17. Monday through Thursday is spirit week and the high school will be dressing up to show off their school spirit.

On Thursday, October 16, there will be a powder puff football game at 6:30 p.m., where the Lady Cardinals will get a chance to play football on the field, freshman and juniors versus sophomores and seniors. After the football game, the boys will play volleyball in the gym. The junior class will have a spaghetti feed in the cafeteria from 5-7 p.m.. A bonfire will start between 7:30 and 8 p.m..

On Friday, October 17, both the middle school and the high school will play Condon. The middle school will play volleyball and football at 2 p.m.. The high school will play volleyball at 5 p.m. and the football game will start at 7:30 p.m.. The homecoming queen will be announced during half-time of the football game. A steak feed will be held in the cafeteria from 4:30-7 p.m., and concessions will be available during the games. After the football game the homecoming dance will be held from 10 p.m.-1 a.m..

Slottee scholarship applications open

Applications are now available for the Elizabeth Slottee Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship is awarded annually to a junior, senior or graduate student at an accredited four year college or university.

"The award is given to recognize and remember the enthusiasm, spirit and dedication that Elizabeth inspired in her students," said a spokesperson. "It is also given to remember Elizabeth's love of music and her wish to share it with others."

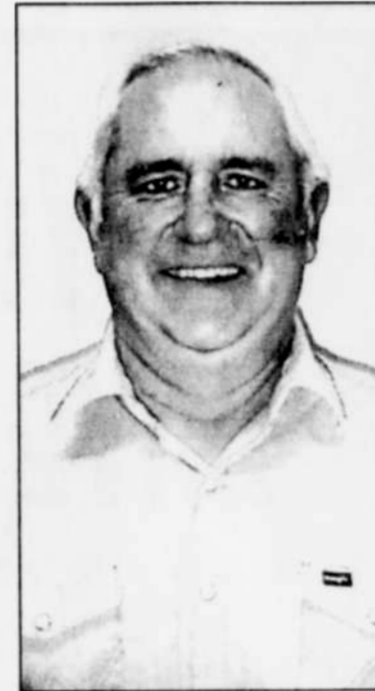

Slottee, a music teacher at Lone and Heppner, died in a car accident.

The scholarship is given annually, in order of priority to: first—a student majoring or minoring in music; second—a student who has been accepted into a school of education.

Applications may be picked up from the South Morrow County Scholarship Trust at the school district office in Lexington. Applications for the award, which is $500 this year, will be accepted until Friday, Oct. 31. The scholarship will be awarded soon after.

Criteria used in awarding the scholarship include scholarship, leadership, citizenship, financial need, suitability of course of study and probability of success in the student's chosen field.

Brosnan to run for commissioner

Dan Brosnan

Daniel Brosnan, Heppner, has registered as a Republican candidate for the Morrow County Commissioner position one, now held by Raymond French.

Brosnan, 54, is the youngest of four children of Jerry and Marian Brosnan of Little Butter Creek, a sixth-generation Morrow County ranching family. He attended school in Heppner, where he was active in 4-H, FFA and sports. He also worked on the Brosnan cattle ranch until his graduation. After high school, he entered the U.S. Air Force in 1961, serving two years in Louisiana and two years in Japan. Following an honorable discharge, he returned to Heppner and married Doris A. Morris in 1966.

Brosnan attended Blue

Mountain Community College, focusing on law enforcement courses and joined the Oregon State Police Department in May 1968. He worked for the OSP in Newport, Gilchrist and Ontario before becoming a sergeant and transferring to the Salem District office. He served as an interim assistant commander of the Portland District I and commander of the Bend District V offices. He earned promotions to lieutenant and then to captain as assistant commander in charge of operations of the Fish and Wildlife Division in Salem state headquarters. He retired in October 1993 and returned to Heppner in 1994.

Brosnan graduated from Northwestern University's School of Police Staff and Command. He served as Oregon's law enforcement representative on the Pacific Fishery Management Council for five years and Oregon's representative on the Columbia River Law Enforcement Committee. He graduated from the U.S. Coast Guard Boat Enforcement School in Yorktown, Virginia.

He has served on the Heppner Coordinating Council, the Heppner Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and the Morrow County Jail Committee. He currently serves on the St. Patrick Church Parish Council and recently became chairman of the Morrow County Museum Commission.

The Brosnans have two grown children, Damon and Darci.
